Foreword

AFTER many long but pleasant hours of toil, the yearbook staff presents the 1932 "Congress." It is our hope that the new cover design and inside illustrations will meet with your approval. We owe a great debt to Miss Ball, Miss Zuber, and Miss Mitchell for their cooperation in bringing this publication to you. We are exceedingly grateful to those organizations which contributed their share in making this book possible. We wish to thank also, the Senior class and the cast of the Senior play for their financial support in contributing the proceeds of the play to the yearbook fund. It has been our earnest endeavor to present a book that will in future years bring back memories of those good old days at O. H. S.

THE "CONGRESS" STAFF.

Class Poem

I saw a ship come riding in today,
Sails swelled with breeze,
Flags proudly raised aloft;
And on her prow
Deep scars of months of venture,
Of thrilling tales,
Of storms and gales o'ercome.
I saw the dock, with fearful faces filled,
Awaiting one,
One single glimpse of her;
Then when she'd come,
All happily rejoiced
For her safe trip,
That she had gained the port.
She lies at rest, an inspiration there
Amongst the boats,
Those meagre skiffs afloat
Here, there, and yon
About the shallow bay.

We are the ship, near finished with our course,
Our knowledge more,
Our heads erect with pride;
And on our lives
The long four years have marked
Of trials won,
Tests and ordeals well met,
For us, the dock is still with faces filled,
Awaiting us,
Our graduation day;
Then when we're thru,
With praises and with gifts
They welcome us,
Glad that we've gained the port.
As is the ship, so we to others are,
Inspiring them
To something greater still;
We, few but great,
The class of thirty-two.

Retrospect of the Year 1931-32

The class of '32 is approaching the end of its high school work—one more year and it plunges us into the unknown—oblivion—success—one never knows. Our high school career is a thing of the past, but something never to be forgotten. Four years have we spent together, striving for knowledge, making many friends, and attending our numerous dances, games, and plays.

The merry-go-round of events started with football in the fall of '31. Crowds of smiling boys and girls went to and from the games, cheering the football team on to victory. The season ended in a glorious triumph over Bradford—and what a victory! The annual football dance was one of the gayest and most delightful events of the year.

The Dramatic Club has by no means been dormant. It has aspired to great heights under the able direction of Miss Elizabeth Herzog, and has a large number of talented students enrolled. The many and various types of plays were exceptionally well executed and highly appreciated.

Basketball started in December. Great enthusiasm was displayed both by the student body and the players. The season ended successfully in the spring after completing a difficult schedule.

The competitive assemblies were held in April, before large and appreciative audiences.

Then track began; seeing so many pupils participated in this sport, perhaps in the future, some of our youthful athletes will partake in the famous Olympic Games.

The Junior-Senior Prom and Wayside dances were given for the departing Seniors. Both were very successful, and the Seniors and underclassmen are looking forward to future festivities such as these. The Senior Play took place in May. It was an amusing comedy and thoroughly enjoyed by all in attendance.

One of the features of the year were the "dime dances." These were sponsored by the Parent Teacher's Association. Never before has the student body as a whole rallied to the support of any project as they have to this; they were a universal success.

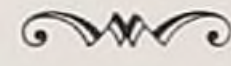

Regents rapidly followed by Class Night and Commencement made a visualized dream come true; one hundred eighty boys and girls were then graduates of the Olean High School.

The time had come for the Seniors to don their caps and gowns. They were leaving, taking another step toward future success and happiness. As the years go by, we shall all have memories of our happy carefree days—the days at O. H. S.

A Splash Into the Future

Oftimes Nature is relentless, oftimes affable. In 1940 both characteristics she displayed in her actions. There was that mighty flood of June-the-first, that broke in so suddenly upon the unprepared inhabitants of Olean. Then came the question, "How can we live in a sunken city?" This puzzling query Nature answered as she would. The result, a city of flashing bodies of mermen and mermaids

In order that the reader may grasp this phenomenal tale, we are publishing a page from the Olean newspaper of August 13, 1942.

Snailsburg Sunday School Holds Picnic at Whales Point

Ed. Geise, Noted Glider, Wins Prize in One Hundred Yard Plunge

Snailsburg, June 13. — Whales Point was a scene of splashing activity today as the Snailsburg Sunday School held its annual picnic there.

Ed. Geise became the mermaids' hero when he splashed in first in the big glider race. "Gliding is certainly my high water sport," declared Merman Geise as he joyfully lashed the sea with his tail. Tom Malone came in next while Edgar Zinn and Robert Spears puffed into third place at the same time.

On the program was also a water spouting contest waged by June McElfresh, Janet LaDue, Margaret L. Jones, Belle Jobe and Mary Morris. It was seen that June McElfresh could spout the most water from her nose.

At three o'clock a concert was given by the Mermaid Octette composed of Hazel Oldham, Georgia O'Dell, Irene Panado, Betty Jobe, Margaret Hedlund, Mary Hamilton, Helen Solomon and Jean Tothill. The numbers they sang were, "The Romance of the Octopus" and "My Watery Grave." At five o'clock a fish egg roast was held on the sandy bottom of the point. William Bathurst and Lester Cornell built a sizzling fire and all ye mermaids and mermen dove around to secure eats. Scalloped scales and seaweed cakes also were distributed by Valeta Feister, Winifred Furniss, Helen Carlson, Ione Butler, and Genevieve Nichols.

At the conclusion of lunch Josephine Spitz gave a superb demonstration on a sea horse.

Several extremely amusing features, were a recitation "Minnie the Mermaid" by Marie Baker, a debate "Shall this be a dry or wet country?" by Charlotte Peake and Madelyn Hyndman, and a quartette consisting of Allan Jackson, Gordon Gibbons, Joe Malone and Earl Saunders, sang "How Dry I Am."

At six o'clock everyone began the long swim back to Snailsburg, after having a very enjoyable time.

DAVID MILLER HURT IN ACCIDENT

David Miller, of 10 Waterway Place, is now in the Payne Hospital, suffering from bruises due to an accident. He collided with Roger O'Dea while coming around the corner of a stone. Merman O'Dea had a few scales knocked off, but otherwise is uninjured.

KIDNAPING MYSTERY IS SOLVED

*Young Bill Bartholomew
Rescues Albertina Blade*

At last the kidnaping mystery has been solved! At four o'clock this morning, Bill Bartholomew, a young hero, daringly rescued that mermaid so well-known of late, Albertina Blade. With a net ingeniously fashioned of sea weed, he caught the criminals, Conrad Blessing, Earl Cornelius, and Ned Wagner, as they were rapidly swimming away with the poor lass.

"Aha," he shouted as he sprayed a lungful of water into the faces of the frightened miscreants. "Now I've got you, you old sea dogs."

Albertina, flapping her fins about excitedly, finally fainted in the arms of John Wright, who had arrived at the scene.

Bruce Tinklepaugh, chief officer of the Watery Police Corps, swam up and took the kidnapers into custody. Later he gave them over into the hands of his men, Harry Hernquist, Edwin Kamery, Howard Scott, Roy Schermerhorn, Howard Farr, Blessing, Cornelius, and Wagner will tomorrow be transported on the Shark Express to the Poor Fishes' Prison. It will be remembered that it is in this same coop that the notorious gang, the Sea Snysers, has been imprisoned for the last five months. The gang is made up of: Hertel Fluent, Bertram Rogers, Frank Gel-somino, and Clinton Sipe.

TRIAL CLOSED; FINLEY DECLARED NOT GUILTY

The trial of Rogers vs. Finley came to a close yesterday when the jury gave a verdict of not guilty. Five weeks ago, Roger Rogers brought to court a charge that Jay Finley, clerk at the Whette Drug Store, had purposely inserted a piece of sea shell into a drink of Green River which he had ordered.

John Graham, Finley's lawyer, has pleaded the case with his usual skill and versatility. Earl Henry, the Prosecutor's attorney, admitted defeat today at the end of the trial.

The jury was an unusual one, composed of both mermen and mermaids, Anne Barry, Clara Becker, Ralph Wanamaker, Robert Allan, Louis Poda, Ruth Bergsten, Susie Vitale, Doris Barber, Louis Thomas, Alvera Shankman, Lena Cashimere and Susie Vena.

James Griffen, Stanley Motal, Leroy Matteson, Carlton Kelley, Theodore Jaskulski and Clarence Rehler were called as last minute witnesses. They were all in favor of Merman Finley.

Rogers lashed his tail in anger when he heard the final verdict.

"That sea shell nearly choked me," he cried disgustedly. "I see there ain't no justice."

Finley rejoiced at his good luck. He announced that he was going to take a long swim to get back in shape for work once more.

Barn Dance Affair Held At Seadale Was a Big Success

Seadale, June 13. — Although the night was wet, all Seadale it seemed turned out Tuesday for the Barn Dance, given by the town's most prominent and wealthy merman, Adrian Murrin. The affair was held in Murrin's new fish barn, only recently completed on the level sandy stretch near Salmon Mound. Invitations were delivered from school to school by two fast-gliding telegraph boys, William Finn and Charles Fish.

And oh what music Paul Gibson's Slimy Syncopators did provide! Rupert Kelly put in several notes with his Jew's harp; Walter Flaherty squeaked away with his fiddle; Alvin Garey and George Hamilton made queer noises on mouth organs; and Alfred Siegel performed daring feats on his accordion.

Paul Hitchcock showed his great vocal strength when he acted as caller.

During the intermission, guests were entertained with two numbers:

Clogging and acrobatic dancing by Kathryn Sherwin, Angeline DeCapua, Dorothy Norris, and Esther Levin.

A popular hit, "Oh What-a Time I Had With Minnie the Mermaid," was sung by Margaret M. Jones, Gertrude Mines, Donna Metcalf, and Gladys Hill.

At midnight all swam out to a large rock nearby where refreshments were hidden in the water. They were given out by Elaine Adams, Mary Foss, Jean Geuder, Jane Consedine, Dorothy Glasser, Margaret Gergel, and Frances Driscoll.

The concluding feature of the dance was an old-fashioned spelling bee with William Fitzpatrick as master. Prizes for the best misspelling were won by John Dean, Faye Andrews, Aletha Milne and Mabelle Parker. All were crowned with a garland of fresh seaweed.

HOUSE ENTERED DURING NIGHT

Snailsbury, June 13. — Josephine DeMarino reported to chief of police, Maurice Heath, that while she was entertaining at a party last night, she and her guests, Mary McLaughlin, Helen Mishanec, Mary Finn, Jane Ann French, Archie Castle, Norman Carlson, John G. Brennan, Earl Boser, and Robert Allan, were held up by a notorious robber, Ralph Sanzo, and relieved of all their Jewels and money.

Chief Heath states he has sent out four officers, Michael Cervantes, William Wright, Eugene Westfall, and Gerry Sturm, to search for the culprits. Sanzo seems to have disappeared from this part of the sea entirely.

YE SPORTS NEWS

By J. C. Brennen

Six professional swimmers have come into view in the last few days: Stephen Egnaczak, Richard Lindamer, Albert Fath, Phillips Cartwright, Fernando Brown, and Albert Becker. In a recent contest, Fernando Brown managed to glide into first place only by a slim margin.

In floating, there are several stimulating contestants vieing for first place. Geneva Sherwood stands foremost in line in my opinion. Yet some critics say that Serafine Sirianni will prove

NEW SPECIES OF FISH

Discovered by Virginia Reddy

Virginia Reddy, popular mermaid-about-town, today discovered a new species of fish. This fish, Miss Reddy relates, had eyes of different colors, one red and one green.

"I was swimming along down Union Street when I met this huge trout. He talked to me and told me about the usefulness of his eyes. He opens his red eye and the smaller fish, mistaking it for a traffic signal, all stop. Then when quite a number have collected, he closes that eye and shows the other, the green one. When all the fish start up again, his mouth opens and in rush the suckers. Oh that food were as easy for me to obtain as it is for him." Then Virginia gave a long sigh.

Interest is very great in this strange creature. If anyone sees him, please ask him to come to Harold Lundberg's "Laboratories for Wet Subjects."

an expert. Anna Puff and Gertrude Ross have quite bright prospects.

Water splashing is coming more and more into vogue. Betty Hannigan seems to be in constant training for this sport at Rock Bottom Camp. James Hadley, Madge Kime, William McGiveron, Algie O'Donnell, and Josephine O'Shaughnessy are hope-to-bes, hope-to-be great also. Josephine O'Shaughnessy at the present time can make quite a large splash.

Stone throwing — whatta sport, whatta sport. And whatta merman is Burt Friedl who is Olean's best stone-thrower. New entrants are of late coming into view. They are Ray Cronk, Theodore Schlosser, Howard Vincent, and Joe Watson.

VERNON KARL'S GROCERY STORE KNOCKED OVER BY A SHARK

Snarlsburg, June 13. — While shopping in Karl's Grocery Store yesterday afternoon, a group of mermaids were badly frightened and shaken up when a shark, coming full speed down State Street, collided with the store, knocking it completely off its foundation.

Only a few cans of snail meat were lost and Karl, hiding behind the counter, was not hurt. The mermaids, Evelyn Ward, Muriel Wright, Helene Skala, Gertrude Skelton, and Ida She-wairy were not injured.

New Non-Washable Rouge

Presented at Mermaids' Convention

Snailsburg, June 13. — "Girls, it will not wash off. It sticks like a leech. It is water-proof."

This startling announcement was made by Josephine Tucker today when she presented her new rouge to the Mermaids' Convention.

A great flapping of tails followed as there ensued a mad rush for the speaker's booth. Quiet was at last secured and Tooty Ray, Patty Stull and Isabelle Heath distributed free samples among the mermaids.

Speeches, "How I keep That Mermaid Complexion," were given by Louise Wiles, Catherine Hickey, and Mary Sprague. They were exceedingly instructive, and each convention guest pledged to use Ivory Soap.

"It floats, it is 99 44-100

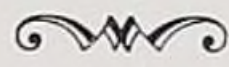

pure. Think of it!" expostulated Elda Rogers.

At dinner, a nibbling contest was held. Catherine Proudfoot, Marie Sanzo, Margaret McFall, Loretta Oldham, Sophia Kuwik, and Dorothy Hastings all took part. Loretta Oldham was expelled from the race soon after it started because she did not nibble, she ate. Dorothy Hastings won by several dishes full.

Later in the afternoon, a play was presented. Prime favorites were:

Elizabeth Page,
Flavia Dunlavey
Mary Finn
Mildred Parker
Tena Chiapusso
Susan Gish
Winifred Ryan
Josephine Sharantine
Dorothy Shavalier
Lena Siegel

Class Will 1932

We the jolly tars of the crew of "32," being in a practically unquestionable state of sanity, do hereby will and bequeath our effects to the cabin boys of "33," in the hope that they shall derive as much benefit from them as did we.

FIRST: To the junior class, our unceasing efforts to better the lot of our "Alma Mammy."

SECOND: To the junior class, a new study hall, unscarred by battle, on the second floor.

THIRD: To "Billy" O'Reilly, Ralph Sanzo's flock of pseudonyms.

FOURTH: To "Walt" Chrzan, Steve Egnaczak's secret passion for "Tooty" Ray, in the hope that Mary Turner will benefit thereby.

FIFTH: To "Bob" Evans, "Rup" Kelly's subtle attraction for the opposite sex.

SIXTH: To Miss Zuber, a journalism class as talented as this year's "Congress" Staff.

SEVENTH: To Mary Noonan, Catherine Hickey's versatility.

EIGHTH: To Gene Robarts, "Gerry" Sturm's cleverness and talent.

NINTH: To Tony Rogers, Joe Watson's Norwegian blond coiffure.

TENTH: To "Charlie" Shoemaker, "Mike" Cervantes' first and middle names.

ELEVENTH: To Catherine O'Donnell, Mary Foss' "Ev".

TWELFTH: To "Jim" Burdick, "Willie" Bartholomew's athletic physique.

THIRTEENTH: To Bill Donnelly, "Gordy" Gibbons' sophistication.

FOURTEENTH: To John Hildebrandt, nothing, as he already has too many of the better things of life.

FIFTEENTH: To "Willie" Chevassu, "Weary" Bathurst's alertness.

SIXTEENTH: To Ruth Keeney, Mary Colligan's dancing ability.

SEVENTEENTH: To "Bob" Linehan, "Horse" Jackson's dancing feet.

EIGHTEENTH: To Mr. Sackett, another group of students capable of causing the furore that did the "Dust Pan" Staff.

NINETEENTH: To "Chink" Payne, Fernando Brown's svelt figure.

TWENTIETH: To John Kane, "Bob" Allen's imperturbability.

TWENTY-FIRST: To Art Yahn, Conrad Blessing's manly beard.

TWENTY-SECOND: To George Wilcox, "Roge" O'Dea's suave mien.

TWENTY-THIRD: To Jane Fuller, Madelyn Hyndman's languid, lithsome beauty.

TWENTY-FOURTH: To John Rucinski, Elmer Smith's ability to stay awake after the curfew.

TWENTY-FIFTH: To Mary Kime, Betty Hannigan's dream of another man like "Erasmus."

TWENTY-SIXTH: To Harold Wagner, "Norm" Carlson's manly beauty.

TWENTY-SEVENTH: To "Goosey" McGavisk, "Red" Fitzpatrick's memory of the "girl who went west."

TWENTY-EIGHTH: To "Malc" Dempsey, John Wright's armful of books.

TWENTY-NINTH: To "Dugan" John, his well earned pension.

THIRTIETH: To Harriet Lundberg, Alice McCue's quiet manner.

Signed before me this fifth day of May, year of our Lord, nineteen hundred and thirty-two. In witness whereby I hereby affix my seal, a notary public named Herman.

History of Junior Class

Since our arrival at High School as freshmen, our scope of ever increasing activities has been greatly enlarged upon. We, the juniors, class of 1933 have specific reasons for being proud of our record this year. In athletics, our girls have won well deserved honors for they received first place in volley-ball and baseball in spite of the keen competition given them by their senior sisters. Also our boys have contributed to the success of the varsity football and basketball teams by their excellent playing.

In dramatics, during the year, every one of our class has shown unusual talent, especially in our part of the program in the competitive assemblies, where our junior students displayed their musical talent, and their interpretation of stage acting. Now as a climax to our successful year we are giving the Junior-Senior Prom, which we hope will prove to be a parting gala night for our older sisters and brothers at our own Olean High School.

O—Juniors let us continue our good record and be worthy of our recognition as seniors next year.

Freshman Class

The freshman class this year is the largest in the history of Olean High School, there having been over 200 entering in September and about 150 in January.

This year the class united with the sophomores presenting a class entertainment, which took the place of the class assembly. The assemblies had to be discontinued because of lack of seating space.

Athletic Council

The athletic program of the Olean High School originates with, and is carried on by the Athletic Council. This consists of five student members, the president, vice-president, secretary, managers of football and basketball, and of four faculty members, the principal of the high school, the supervisor of physical education, the faculty treasurer of the Athletic Association, and the coach of athletic teams.

The election of the student members takes place at the annual September meeting of the entire membership of the Athletic Association. The council meets every Monday and conducts all the routine business. Recommendations of the coach covering equipment and supplies are brought before the council for approval. Reports of the managers are received, bills are audited, varsity letters and class numerals are awarded by this group. Membership in the council is a real responsibility and is so regarded by both student and faculty representatives.

Football

By a thrilling 6-0 victory over Bradford, the season's football schedule was completed most successfully. "Norm" Utecht, the new coach, was confronted with a squad of "green" men, when the call for candidates was issued. By hard work and endless hours, however, he put out a smooth-rolling machine that piled up six victories from a nine game schedule. Games and scores follow in chronological order:

Olean Score	Date	Opponent Score
Olean 0	September 26	Little Valley 0
Olean 53	October 3	Eldred 0
Olean 6	October 10	Dunkirk 38

Basketball

The season started with an inexperienced team; although a very clever outfit of outstanding calibre and a different coach, together with the maintaining of the high spirit, resulting in a successful year. Sixteen games were played, twelve ending in victory. As the team entered into a slump near the close of the season, most of the losing games were accounted for. In professional style the ball was rushed into scoring territory only to find the basket missed by inches.

The school expects to have the same outfit who have received letters, back next year.

The following received letters: T. Malone, J. Rucinski (Capt.), J. Garr, W. Montie, R. Peters, A. Rogers, G. Pitts, J. Cain, J. Fitzpatrick, E. Westfall (Manager).

Track Team

Previous to any track meet this year, the Crimson and Gold Cindermen are working into fine shape. The team is strengthened by the return of many veterans including Garr, Williams, Karl and Lee, veteran lettermen.

Hindman and Lindamer are taking the 880 trip in fine time. Williams, a letterman, and Clancy and Raymond are making exceptionally good time in the 440 yard run. Karl, a letterman and Geise, a newcomer, take the 220 low hurdles in fine form. Mike Barbaro, a newcomer, takes the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes with ease, although he is sometimes pressed by Garr, a letterman, Pezzimento and Dempsey. Fisher, Sullivan, Kamery and Marshall are heaving the shot a fair distance. Jack Lee, a letterman veteran and Chrzan, a newcomer, are equally matched in the mile trip. The field events have Colomy and Westfall at the pole vault and Williams and Rehler on the high jump. A relay team has not been chosen as yet.

The scheduled meets are as follows:

Alfred Meet	April 6
Tri-City Meet	April 14
Little Valley-Portville	April 18
County Meet	April 21
Sectional Meet	April 28
State Meet	June 4

Lettermen's Club

The distinct honor of being a member of the Lettermen's Club rests only with those who have been awarded a varsity letter or the Cumulative "O." This organization was founded to bring about a closer relationship and harmony among the participants in campus and extra-curricular activities. The season of '32 was brought to an end with the Annual Lettermen's Banquet, a very successful affair.

Baseball

Baseball proved a success this year, the juniors winning the greatest number of games by defeating the seniors in the finals.

Tennis

The tennis playoffs are well under way, with a large group of girls playing at the Boardmanville courts and at the school gym.

Basketball

As usual, basketball was the leading sport for girls. The seniors won the league, with the freshmen taking second place.

The high scorers for the year were: Elizabeth Ray—72 pts. (Sr.), Madge Kime—58 pts. (Sr.), and Helen Perkins—24 pts. (Fr.)

Soccer

Soccer was introduced for the first time at O. H. S. this fall by Miss Doris Wildrick. Each class organized a team and formed a league. The senior team won the greatest number of games, thereby placing themselves in the lead. We are sure that this sport will be as popular next year as it was this.

Hiking Club

The Hiking Club has enjoyed this year to the fullest extent. Each person hiking fifty miles received a club pin, while a hundred miles gave them one-third towards a varsity letter. Belle Jobe acted as President and Betty Jobe as Secretary and Treasurer.

Volleyball

The juniors won the Volleyball League, with the seniors giving them a close game: 14-15.

November 18—A meeting was held for the election of officers. It was also decided that the cheerleaders of last term be kept throughout the rest of the year.

December 7—The question of Competitive Assemblies was discussed but it was decided to settle the matter at a later date. An addition to the twenty-point letter for girls participating in Home Economics programs was discussed.

December 15—The question of the Home Economics program was voted upon and passed. It was also decided that the council members should welcome the incoming Freshmen the first day of the new term.

April 11—It was decided to hold the Competitive Assemblies on the evenings of April 15 and April 21 in the High School Auditorium. William Finn and Art Yahn were appointed to attend to tickets.

April 13.—The tickets were distributed to the council members to sell.

April 26.—It was decided to hold a candy sale to get money for the Student Council pins. William Finn and Josephine O'Shaughnessy were appointed to see if the price of the pins could be reduced.

Wayside

The admittance channel of Wayside is ever easily brooked, and so this year, as always, the girls have poured into the society's friendly cabin where a safe harbor has awaited them.

The 1932 voyage has included several eminent landings, each distinctive in its own manner. With November's tide and late sun, came the Tea Dance; with January's frost, the Annual Initiation Party; and with May's joyous warmth and gaiety, the Spring Dance. Then too a new venture was undertaken when in April, May, and June, the Yellow and White Contest was waged, each side vieing with the other in entertainments.

The pilots, who have, with the aid of the deck hands, attempted to make the trip of the ship Wayside successful, are as follows:

Virgil Banquet

The annual Virgil Banquet was held on Thursday evening, April 7, at the school cafeteria, for the Virgil students and their guests.

The affair was carried out in the manner of a Roman banquet, those in attendance wearing Roman costumes. The meal was planned and served in accordance with the customs of early Rome.

A delightful program of entertainment was presented by those members of the Cicero class who acted as slaves. This group included Marilyn Wright, Priscilla Oakleaf, Kathleen Herold, Martha Coon, Robert Ewing, Roy Card, Arthur Yahn, and Wesley Leonard.

Catherine Hickey was general chairman and was assisted by various committees from the class. Louise Wiles acted as master of ceremonies, and as head of the entertainment committee.

The faculty members who were guests this year were: Mr. Smith, Miss Hobart, Miss Herzog, Miss Fitzgerald, Miss Wildrick, and Miss Sergeant, who so kindly helped in preparing the meal.

This dinner was one of the more unusual social activities of the school season, and was greatly enjoyed by all who attended.

New York State Honor League

This is an honorary society, the aims of which are to increase interest in school activities, to set a higher standard of scholarship, and to develop the qualities of leadership, character, and service.

The first twenty per cent of the senior class of any high school under the supervision of the University of the State of New York makes up the first eligible list. This number is reduced to ten per cent of the class by two votes, the faculty vote and the student vote.

This year's membership is as follows:

William Bartholomew	Janet LaDue	Marcia Shankman
Adelaide Chase	Janet LeBar	Gerry Sturm
Flavia Dunlavey	Helen Mishanec	Jean Tothill
Edward Geise	Genevieve Nichols	Evelyn Ward
Earl Henry	Hazel Oldham	John Wright
Catherine Hickey	Elizabeth Page	Muriel Wright

Hi-Y

Aim: "To create, maintain and extend throughout the community, high standards of Christian character."

The following activities were carried on by the club this year:

The organization was successful in obtaining the following interesting speakers: Dr. Korn, Dr. Atwater and Mr. Sackett.

They furnished football schedules to the students.

Representatives attended the conference at Batavia.

They held a dance in the Ashton Parish House December 11.

They organized a basketball league.

DRAMATICS

P.K.

The Dramatic Club

The season of '31-'32 was a highly successful one for the Dramatic Club. Approximately 85 students were enrolled in one class under the directorship of Miss Elizabeth Herzog.

Several plays were rehearsed and presented for the enjoyment of the student body, as well as a George Washington bi-centennial play given for the D. A. R.

The combined Dramatic and Musical Club of the high school held a Christmas party in the gymnasium. The Dramatic Club's contribution to the entertainment was a very interesting one act play entitled "Mimi Lights the Candle."

Thru the generosity of the Olean Little Theatre Guild, the club members were invited to the dress rehearsals of the two Guild plays: "Hay Fever" and "Bird in Hand." These productions were both very entertaining and very greatly appreciated.

Several artists from outside were secured to give readings and play at regular club meetings. Mrs. J. B. Smith gave the first act of Channing Pollock's "The Fool" which was extremely interesting.

Here's to the prosperity of the future actors and actresses of O. H. S., may they all have successful careers.

Senior Play

"The Patsy," a delightful three act comedy, was presented at the Ashton Parish House on May twentieth and twenty-first, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Herzog.

The plot deals with the trials and tribulations of a family in which there is continual strife. "Pat," the sweet and lovable sister, is championed by her father, a good natured grocery salesman, in her struggle against her snobbish sister, Grace, and her mother. Grace is engaged to Billy Caldwell, but their happiness is endangered by a quarrel resulting from Billy's inviting Sadie Buchanan, an old flame, to attend a dance with them. Patricia, in an unusual manner, wins the love of Tony Anderson, who believed himself in love with Grace.

The cast is as follows:

The Library—1931-1932

Before the opening of school, Miss Schleich, according to her custom, worked in the library on the preparation of the new books for the shelves. Notable among the three hundred and twenty new volumes accessioned were thirty-four reference books for the new courses in Interior Decorating and Furnishing, and Home Nursing. For general reference the following were made available: Cram's Unrivalled Atlas 1930 edition, the Supplement to Granger's Index to Poetry and Recitations, Walsh's International Encyclopedia of Prose and Poetical Quotations revised edition, and Who's Who in America Vol. 16.

The following groups and individuals presented the library with welcome gifts of books ranging from single volumes to several shelves: the Bliss Electrical School, O. H. S. Teachers and classes in American and Modern History, O. H. S. Part Time School, Nazzy Barbaro and Paul Gessel, pupils of the school, Mrs. Thomas Larkin and Mrs. J. P. Herrick who gave the greatest number.

Miss Schleich's annual contribution in connection with the Library was made this year to individual pupils who assisted in the Return of Overdue Books Campaign conducted in Book Week. A representative boy or girl from each of the twenty-five home rooms was the recipient of a bit of Scotch toffy with a picture of Bobbie Burns, and Gerry Sturm was awarded Welo's Studio Handbook as winner of the prize poster which in turn was placed in Miss Zuber's room, the one responsible for the return of the greatest number of overdue books. About twenty-five dollars worth of long lost books were restored to the library in this campaign. A new poster was also given the library in Book Week by Miss Gould.

As usual the history classes did their library reference work on Mondays and Tuesdays, the English I B's, and III and IV A's were instructed in the use of books and libraries by Miss Schleich, and a few commercial classes had reference periods. Owing to the increased registration in January, the congestion in the library on Fridays at four o'clock necessitated a new regulation which permitted Ancient and American history books to be taken out on Thursday nights for over the week end. Both English and history classes availed themselves this year of the new pamphlet material on the Washington Bicentennial and a poster commemorating the celebration was presented by the First National Bank of Olean.

Miss Ida Gould assisted the librarian in revising the vertical file, to which were added valuable plates from two travel books in the collection presented by Mrs. Herrick. Miss Coburn and Miss Gould made circulation possible for the two weeks of Miss Schleich's absence. Agnes Stephen and Esther Levin gave each a period a day for one semester to assisting in the library and for two weeks Miss Doris Persons of Delevan, a senior in the Syracuse University Library School, did practice work under Miss Schleich. As usual Miss Mitchell's Typewriting II class rendered much needed help in typing title and subject cards for the catalog. To all of these assistants who have benefited all users of the library Miss Schleich wishes to express her thanks.

ACCURACY

IN BANKING, even more than in schools and colleges, accuracy is regarded as of prime importance. Accuracy is an outstanding feature of The First National Bank's service in meeting the banking needs of those who make Olean their home. It handles checking, interest and other banking transactions of firms and individuals.

The Charm of Olean's Environment

Before making elaborate vacation plans let us suggest a preliminary motor trip among the foothills of the Alleghenies adjacent to Olean.

These charming hills and valleys, now accessible by improved highways, will compare with the Adirondacks, the Rockies or the Catskills and they're within an hour of our own homes.

The motorist in this territory is practically monarch of all he surveys.

He can drive for hours without seeing a "keep off the grass" sign or anything to indicate that he isn't welcome to the fullest enjoyment of this beautiful country.

This, in a large measure, is due to the fact that it has become more and more the practice of motorists to respect property rights and allow the wild flowers to grow for the enjoyment of others.

OLEAN CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

What does life hold in store for you?

Will you be able to have the good things of life, or will you have to content yourself with just wishing for them?

The difference between having what you want—or merely wishing for it—is TRAINING

A GOOD COLLEGE GRADE BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION
OR SECRETARIAL COURSE DOES NOT REQUIRE AN UN-
DULY LONG TIME. THE COST IS MODERATE AND EM-PLOYMENT OPPORTUNITIES ARE ALWAYS GREATER THAN IN OTHER FIELDS.
