Foreword

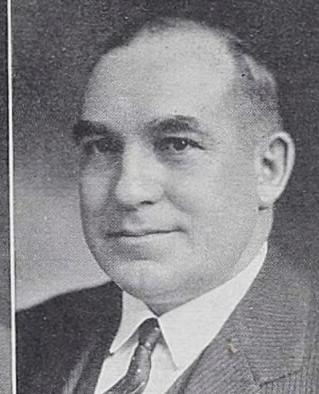

The members of the Class of 1935 present this book in commemoration of our old High School building within whose walls many fine characters have been molded and the foundations laid for thousands of useful lives; also in anticipation of the new and modern building which gives promise of much for Olean's future.

"IMMORTAL, THOUGH NO MORE;
THOUGH FALLEN, GREAT,
BUT UNTO US SHE HATH A SPELL
BEYOND HER NAME IN STORY"

"TO ALL WHO SHALL COME HERE, SORROWING,
TO ALL WHO SHALL COME HERE, REJOICING,
SYMPATHY AND GREETINGS;
SO HAVE WE DONE IN OUR TIME"

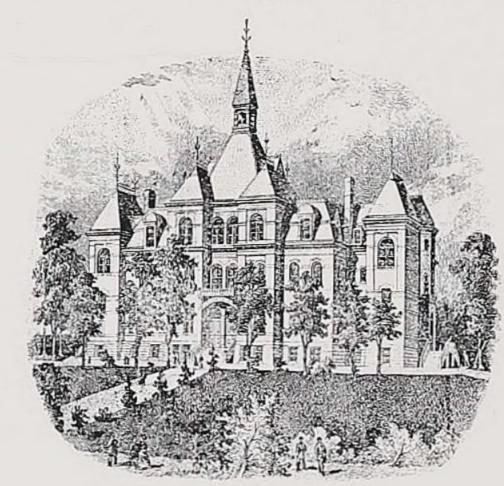

On the spot where now yawns an unsightly hole, there was erected in 1852 the first building of the Olean Academy. The "Olean Academy Association" was incorporated by the Regents, April 11, 1853, and discontinued October 3, 1868, when its property was bought by the city. This building was destroyed by fire on April 1, 1856, and a new building replacing it was completed by the fall of 1858. The Olean Academy was a private school which taught elementary studies and also offered courses of studies similar to those of the modern high school. Its school year was divided into three terms of fourteen weeks each and the "graduating course" consisted of three years of study. Examinations held at the end of each term were given by Examiners appointed by the principal. According to a catalogue printed in 1862 the tuition was four dollars a term for the studies of the first form, five dollars for those of the second form and six dollars for those of the third. In 1862 students "pursued" such studies as Astronomy, Philosophy, Greek, University Algebra, Latin, Metaphysics, Ethics, Physiology, French, Italian, Spanish, German and "Ornamental and Practical Penmanship." By 1866 the student could also be enlightened regarding such intriguing topics as Orthography, Intellectual Arithmetic, Universal History, Botany, Mineralogy, Rhetoric, and Moral Science.

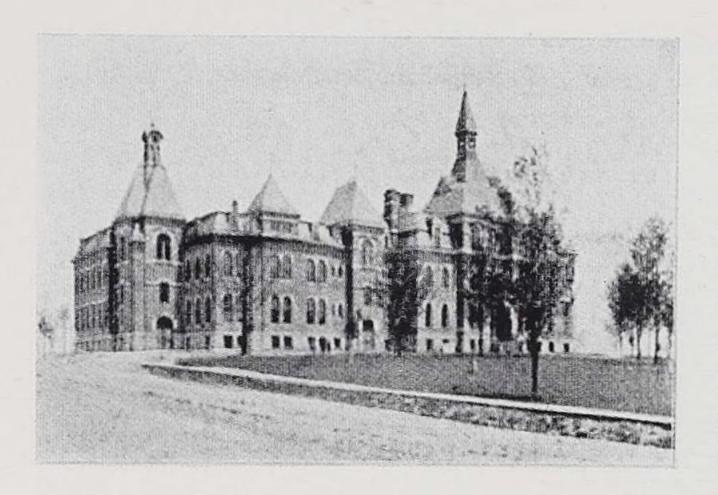

On October 3, 1868 at a school meeting which was held in the town hall, a majority of 97 to 3 voted to organize "Olean Union Free School District No. 1." At the same meeting it was also voted that $2,000 should be raised by tax for the purchase of the Olean Academy property. With this began the present public school system of Olean. The building which had formerly housed the Olean Academy was renamed School No. 1 and continued for a few years under the same principal, Mr. J. W. Earle. On January 11, 1877 the High School was incorporated by the Regents under the name "Olean Union School, Academic Department." It may be interesting to know that the budget of the entire public school system for the year beginning October, 1874, was $3,775.

The Board of Education decided that the building in which young people had been educated since 1858 had become inadequate and voted $24,000 for the construction of a new building. This structure, which was first used in September, 1881, was the central part of the building which we have recently seen razed to make place for a new one. In the school year which began with the opening of the new building four of the thirteen instructors teaching in the building were engaged in high school work. They were: E. W. Griffith, Principal and Supervisor; Miss Ida M. Farlee, Preceptress; Margaret Jewell and Ellura Bennett. The first students to receive the Regents Academic Diploma, which certified the successful completion of high school work, were Clara Feuchter and Georgia McIntosh, in 1883. In the year 1891-92 and probably earlier, the high school students attended classes in different buildings although No. 1 was known as the Academy Building. At this time there were 93 students doing high school work, an increase of 50% over the preceding year. Because of these crowded conditions the west wing was added to the high school building at an expense of $25,000 and first used in the spring of 1893. The high school system had grown to such an extent, that there were, at the time of the addition of the west wing, a principal and six other teachers employed in the high school instruction.

A debating society which was organized by Principal O. W. Wood in 1895 was named the Olean High School Congress and operated in imitation of the Congress of the United States. Representatives of the society argued many questions successfully with debating societies of surrounding high schools, such as Alfred Academy, Lockport High, Bradford High, Elmira Free Academy, Matson Park High School at Buffalo, Central High School at Buffalo. Orla E. Black, '01, who is now a prominent judge, was a member of the Congress and was the leader of the Olean team in a debate with the Elmira Free Academy on the question: Resolved that New York State appropriate $26,000,000 for the improvement of the Erie Canal. It was disbanded in 1915. The name of our year-book and of our weekly paper was taken from the name of this debating society.

As the student population had increased because of the natural growth of Olean and the desire of more people for education, it was decided to add the east wing to the high school building. The new addition, which represented $26,000 in labor and material, was completed in the spring of 1897. There were 198 seats in the study hall so that there were probably about 200 students doing high school work, a number twice as large as that of four years before.

According to available records, Olean has the honor of having established the first Junior High School in the United States. It began in 1897 and lasted until 1910. From the time of the origination of the Junior High until its close there were in the high school building three separate schools, each with its own principal and administration. They were the grammar school section, the Junior High and the Senior High.

The Wayside Society for Junior and Senior Girls was organized on October 19, 1900. The object of the society as stated in its original constitution was "to obtain a practical knowledge of parliamentary law and to promote intellectual and social improvement." Its motto was: "Do what you are afraid to do;" its flower, the Daisy, and its colors, yellow and white. There were twenty-five members in its first year with May B. Billington as President.

Olean High School has always taken a prominent part in sports. As early as 1902, a track contest was held with Central High School of Buffalo. Olean at one time belonged to the Syracuse Academic Association which sponsored games and meets between the schools which belonged to the association. Olean was also a member of the Batavia Academic Association and competed in track meets with other members of the same association. In 1910 Olean won first honors at the Alfred Track Meet after competing successfully with nine other high schools.

In 1909 the building was remodeled to meet modern requirements at a cost of $10,000.

Olean High School had a Glee Club as early as 1893 when it offered selections for the Commencement Program. There was an orchestra formed from high school students in 1902. The first of a series of annual concerts by the Olean and Bradford musical organizations was held in the Olean Opera House in 1908. The music department has always at every commencement since its organization taken part in the program and presented concerts and entertainments during the year.

The High School engaged in many new activities during the war. As early as 1914 the proceeds from the football dance went into a fund for Belgian relief and the Wayside society prepared bandages for the relief of the Belgians. On December 3, 1917, with impressive ceremony a large "service flag" commemorative of the former students of the high school who had entered some phase of service in the World War was presented to the school by students. As names of those in service were read, representatives of their families came forward and pinned white stars to the flag. At the first ceremony 130 stars were pinned to the flag while more stars were added later for others as they became eligible. Those who had died in service were represented by gold stars.

In 1917 and 1918 $400 was raised by students to buy Liberty Bonds for the high school. These bonds were to be used as a nucleus for a fund for building a gymnasium. In 1918 high school students carried on Junior Red Cross Work. Sewing classes made bandages and other articles to be used in Red Cross work overseas. The Manual Training classes made packing cases in which Red Cross material was shipped. These cases had formerly cost four dollars each. Committees of students assisted on Saturday mornings in packing these cases with goods, under the direction of the Red Cross department. Seniors in 1918 donated the net proceeds of their play, "Monsieur Beaucaire," which amounted to $662.35 to the Red Cross. During the latter part of the war there were many talks given at assemblies on phases of modern warfare and students were urged to buy War Savings Stamps in place of ice cream and candy. In 1918 students saved peach pits and nutshells in a barrel in the hall for use in the manufacture of gas masks. Olean High was far more active than many other schools in aiding Red Cross work during the war.

Under Mr. Sackett's supervision, in 1917, his first year as principal, the Student Council was established. With Mr. Sackett's assistance the high school athletics were entirely reorganized and put on a self supporting basis. The athletic association was formed and proved itself an efficient method of financing school athletics.

In 1920 a new heating plant which had been needed for some time was installed. Strange to say, this heating plant cost $143,000 as compared with the cost of the whole building which was $75,000. The boys' gymnasium and the manual training shops were erected in 1922. Eight years later the girls' gymnasium was added to the unit.

During the years past, Seniors have produced quite creditably many interesting plays. "Monsieur Beaucaire" by Booth Tarkington was the most profitable. Its total receipts were $892.06. According to newspaper reports the Havens theatre was packed the night it was given. Some of the other plays which are relatively well known were "Barbara Frietchie" in 1910, "Strongheart" 1911, "She Stoops to Conquer" 1916, "Trelawney of the Wells" 1919, and "The Man on the Box" in 1920.

The registration of students has increased enormously in the past 52 years. By 1920 there were 669 in the high school section, by 1925, 849. In 1925 the building was turned over entirely to high school students. Until that time grade school classes had been taught in the same building ever since the founding of the school. By 1934 there were 1334 students and 50 teachers lodged in a building which had been used for over half a century. The building was out of date and overcrowded. It was generally known that it was a firetrap. However, there was no hope of having a new structure because of existing business conditions. When the Roosevelt administration made it possible to build the school through its Public Works project, plans to do so were made immediately by the Board of Education.

The cost of the new building, $815,000, seems great as compared with the cost of the old building, but does one have to be reminded that times have changed? Back in the days when the old building was constructed men were willing to work for a dollar a day or less, and the cost of material was correspondingly low. Now, however, prices are higher and men are paid higher wages so that the difference in cost is only relative, not real. Money is worth less than it was, so that it now takes a greater amount of it to buy any article.

During the spring of 1935 the old building was destroyed to make place for the new. It was the work of a few weeks to destroy what it took months to build. The gymnasium was divided by partitions into classrooms while parts of schools 5, 10 and 6 were used for high school classes during the time between the destruction of the old and the erection of the new building.

So runs the history of the old school. May the new bring as much happiness and success to all entering its portals as did the old. The best of the spirit and tradition of the past carries over in to the new.

OLD AND NEW

Last year when autumn sun was smiling through
Our stately campus trees, for very bliss;
Its ruddy hues in evening splendor fell
Upon an old and lordly edifice.

This year when summer shadows 'gin to play,

Thy site will boast no beaming western wall;

No more will thy doomed spires rise on high—

Gone are thy towers in destruction all.

Next year perhaps when winter winds do blow,

If you should chance to pass along that way;

Another standing in its place you'll find—

More novel and more suited to our day.

Imposing though its visage well may be
And fitted more to every modern need;
In some tomorrow when our eyes are dim,
Another will this structure supersede.

OLD OLEAN HIGH SCHOOL

Wet cobwebs shine; wet plaster reeks
In the dying ruin.
An old school soaking in the rain,
Soaking in dreams . . . of youth . . . of strength . . . of rampant joy.

The old school sees more than death
It sees the future:
Its children: living, growing, loving.
It knows it will live on
In memories.

"Oh, that I were handsome"

HISTORY OF THE CLASS OF 1935

Softly the sweet strains of "Memories" drift to the ears of the audience as the curtains on a huge stage are drawn slowly back. A drama is to be presented.

The background for the first scene shows a tall, stately, yet historic looking, old building. It is at once recognized as the old Olean High School. The time is September, 1931.

Up the long campus, young people can be seen hurrying toward this temple of learning. To anyone standing by, these actors would seem young and uncertain as to which way they are to go. This is true for they are Freshmen. As they enter the door, they glance about, then timidly ask the way to Junior Study Hall, where they are greeted by the friendly smile of Miss Fitzgerald and told to take a seat.

As the year goes on, these boys and girls become more certain of their ways and rights, and organize themselves into the Freshman Class electing as officers:

President	William Shank
Vice-President	Helen Havens
Secretary	Jane Milliman
Treasurer	Earl Harter
Student Council Member	Elizabeth Harter
Class Adviser	Miss Fitzgerald

This year, 1931, there are 200 Freshmen. Not many activities take place. The Sophmores unite with the Freshmen to present a class entertainment taking the place of the class assembly.

The time of the second scene is September, 1932. The scenery and characters are much the same; yet, instead of the timid people of the first scene, these actors seem older and more certain.

The year goes by quickly with the usual activities, the reason for this is that there are about four hundred sophomores this year. However, the school spirit continues, and as sophomores, they elect as class officers:

President	James Crowley
Vice-President	Jane Crowley
Secretary	Elizabeth Harter
Treasurer	George Hannigan
Student Council	Alfred LaBella
Class Adviser	Ellen Jane Renshaw
	Miss Elizabeth Herzog

Having climbed the ladder of knowledge thus far, these brave people attempt another step, this being to the rank of Juniors. Most of them succeed.

The curtain comes up on the third scene in September, 1933, showing a great class who have resolved to be good examples of the proper school spirit. As they go through the year, they fulfill this resolve by attending class meetings, being active in sports, and even earning money for the Junior-Senior Prom in honor of the departing Seniors. Their council consisted of:

President	William Shank
Vice-President	Ruth Perkins
Secretary	Elizabeth Harter
Treasurer	Michael Barbaro
Student Council	James Crowley
	John Petrucelli
Class AdviserMiss Jen	nie R. Wombough

Now, having appeared as Freshmen, Sophomores and Juniors, these same people finally come to the last and greatest scene. Regents come. Many gain honors, while others fall sadly behind to wait their turn the next year.

The curtain is raised on the final scene. The time is September, 1934. This scene shows a very industrious group. They start the year off immediately by organizing as follows:

President
Secretary
Treasurer	John Sheehan
	Ellen Jane Renshaw
Student Council	Ruth Lang
	Earl Ek
	Jack Connelly
Class Adviser	Miss Hobart

A few months later, after careful planning, a most enjoyable "All-Senior-Get-Acquainted" party is held in the Gym. Also a magazine drive was attempted to earn money for the Year Book. Then came the time to choose the ring, have pictures taken, and to attend to various other details so important to a Senior.

During these months before graduation various meetings and social functions are held, among which is the Junior-Senior Prom, Senior Play, the Wayside Party and the Parent-Teachers' party.

Slowly the curtain drops. A silence lingers before either the audience or even the players realize that it is all ended.

Just as this drama draws to a close, so closes a chapter in the life of each member of the Senior Class. Though this chapter closes, it is one that will be remembered as the happiest time of all.

"The new has come, the old has gone, But still the memories linger on Of days long since gone by."

HARRIET ROCKWELL,

Secretary of the Class of '35

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, Class of '35, of the Olean High School, City of Olean, in the County of Cattaraugus, and State of New York, being of sound mind and memory, do make, publish and declare this our Last Will and Testament, in manner following, that is to say:

We give and bequeath:

- 1. To Mary Brundage, Joe's Ford.
- 2. Miss Percival, another Marty Tepper (Heaven forbid).
- 3. Bob Griffin, Pete Houte's gridiron honors.
- 4. Jane Davidson, Earl Harter's dimple.
- 5. Jane Quigley, Ed LeValley's smiling disposition.
- 6. Billy Clark, Earl Ek's whistling.
- 7. Ruthie Keller, Mary Olds' gift-of-gab.
- 8. Chuck Hoff, Art Black's Latin knowledge.
- 9. Mary Fitzpatrick, her sister's luck in love.
- 10. Carlton Chamberlain, Glen Swartz's way with the keyboard.
- 11. Mary Catherine Ewing, June Curry's giggle (Poor Billy).
- 12. Wally Morehouse, Eddie Wanner's way with the ladies.
- 13. Hedwig Trieskey, Lillian Yonder's mischievousness.
- 14. All hopeful blondes, Jane Milliman's shining example.
- 15. Miss Oliver, fond memories of her Virgil class.
- 16. To all comers, Ray Questa's reputation as a dancer.
- 17. Miss Hobart, a Journalism class as good as this year's (if possible).
- 18. Herbie Crandall, McCall's Dieter.
- 19. Miss Ball, another "Panty-Waist" Moore. (Woe is to you, Miss Ball!)
- 20. Marion Stahley, Melba Lollar's sweetness.
- 21. Eleanor Runals, Dot Saylor's dizziness.
- 22. Tom Mooney, Hoss Padlo's silvery voice (if Hoss can part with it).
- 23. Larry McCready, an inch from every senior over 5 feet 9 inches.
- 24. Bob Thomson, Don Kenney's bushy hair.
- 25. Nona Haseloff, Helen Perkins' athletic ability.
- 26. Betty Jane Geuder, Elaine Kreamer's studiousness.
- 27. Jack Lippert, Pete Harris' beard.

LASTLY: We hereby appoint the Class of 1936, executor of this our Last Will and Testament, hereby revoking all former wills by us made.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF: We have hereunto subscribed our name, the eleventh day of March in the year one thousand nine hundred and thirty-five.

A REUNION OF THE THIRTY-FIVERS IN 1950

June 28, 1950, dawned as brightly and clearly on the new Olean High School as did June 28, 1935, on the old gym. We are grateful to Mayor Ellen Renshaw, James Crowley, President of the Board of Education, Arthur Black, Superintendent of Schools, William Knox, Principal of the Olean High School, and Dr. John V. Connelly, Olean's leading surgeon, all thirty-fivers for arranging such a pleasant 15th reunion.

The first event is a "field day" held at the Abdo and Gayton Stadium. However, our first sight of our classmates many of whom have grown somewhat bald and a trifle gray and have acquired a "bay window," brings us back to the realities of the present with a jar. We now settle down to baseball. The Varsity of 1935 has secured Vernon Rottstedt and Morris Borst, famous New York Giant battery as pitcher and catcher, while the Yannigans have for their battery an equally famed pair, Ray Questa and "Dinty" Flynn of the New York Yankees.

"Play ball," screams Jane Cartwright as Mike Abdo and Joe Scutello, managers of the Varsity and Yannigans respectively, give their boys a last minute pep talk.

"Boots" Krott, Yannigan outfielder, steps skeptically to the plate and promptly strikes out. ("Boots" is now a famous bowler and can do nothing but strike.) Nazzy Barbaro hits the first pitch back at Rottstedt. Rottstedt ducks and Umpire Cartwright takes the consequences. "Horse" Padlo, now a master tap dancer, offers his services from the stands. Both managers promptly accept him.

Jane Crowley, coaching at first base, sends "Horse" down on the first pitch. Base Umpire "Bencho" Swartz calls the runner out. Dick Sanzo, New York Times sports editor, jumps up protesting and lustily hurls a full pop bottle at Swartz. The latter calmly opens the bottle, drinks the contents, and utters his thanks. Pascal Aurino, of the Aurino and Hadjicki Clothing Stores, pop flies out to "Al" Heil, a successful dairy farmer. "Marty" Tepper leads off for the Varsity by striking out on three pitched balls. (He is now a pawn-broker in Chicago.) Joseph Shankman and Mike Barbaro touch Questa for successive singles. Ezra Sprague cleans the bases with a double to left which "Pete" Prince deftly handles. Tony Palumbo bunts and before third baseman Earl Ek reaches the ball, rounds the bases. Manager Scutello substitutes Helen Perkins for Questa as pitcher and Roberta Keller as catcher. Abdo, Varsity manager, replaces his battery with Ruth Perkins pitching and Kathryn Fitzpatrick catching. "Walt" Coleman falls victim to Miss Perkins as he is watching Kathryn too much. "Bud" Hannigan strikes out to retire the side. (He would rather they'd pitch a basketball.) Pete Houte hits the first pitch over the fence. The game might have been called off, but Dick Sanzo produces another ball from his pocket. Kenneth Whipple strikes out and Freddy La Bella knocks another homer. Umpire Padlo calls the game and both teams adjourn from the field arguing as to the winner.

Field Day over, everyone adjourns to the spacious auditorium of the High School. We are ushered in by Irving Brown and John Garey. A bit early, we devote our attention to our former classmates just arriving. Hearing the din of police sirens, we turn to see the impressive entrance of Judge Ronald Coleman accompanied by his efficient secretary, Marguerite Reilley, and escortd by Chief of Police Dominic Rossi, Sergeant Edward Ehbouer and Private Detective Franklin Donnelly. Following close is Edward LeValley, Chief Executioner and Warden of Sing Sing Prison. We hope the Warden is on friendly terms with the Judge.

Harold Kamler has already arrived and is trying his charms on Alvera Aurino, Veronica Ford, and Dorothy Bergstrom while his wife (June Curry) several rows away glares angrily. People crane their necks to watch the entrance of Countess Duskiuski. We discover the Countess to be Peggy Harris. A loud commotion is heard and we see Jerome Vales accompanied by models attired in beautiful fur pieces of his creation. His models are Janice Shepard, Helen Consedine and Ann Karpin.

We next observe Mr. and Mrs. Albert Abdo (Edna Zemer) and Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Fiegel (Yolanda Moricca) entering. Suddenly the band strikes up and we turn our attention to the stage. The announcer, Harold Cronin, begins to speak into the microphone and Lloyd Harris, Olean Times-Herald reporter, is busy taking notes for his paper, and Pauline Jacobus, society reporter, jots down items about the fashionable gowns seen here and there. We are interrupted by the arrival of the eminent poetess, Mooneen Marian, none other than Mary Mooney escorted by Carl Geise, bakery owner. Next we hear Earl Harter, Master of Ceremonies, introducing the speakers of the day. We hear Leonard Bear, the Professor of Science in Stanford University and State Assemblyman Clements. With the Professor is Thomas Weis, Ph. D., who declines to give an address. Elaine Kreamer, head of a girls' school, gives a stirring talk condemning co-education. She is strongly supported by two of her assistants, Janet Boynton and Edith Joerg. Jeanne Ball, accompanied by Marie Martinelli at the piano, renders a vocal solo. James Smith, manager of the Palace Theater, invites everyone to attend a free performance in his theater. The program includes a picture, "Heart's Passion" starring Donald Kenney and Jane Milliman and produced by William McFall.

In the first row we see several members of the High School faculty. They are Barbara Light, head of courses in Child Training, Hubert Slavin, Supervisor of Industrial Arts, Ruth Benjamin, Commercial Law teacher, Helen Kolata, teacher of bookkeeping, Francis Conley, mathematics, Helen Shaw, librarian, and Arzona Harding, head of the Home Economics department with her assistant, Katherine Kolkowski. Among the late arrivals are William Bernard ushering in Dr. Gordon Eddy, Dr. D. Allan McCall, and Dr. Malcolm Troup followed by their assistant nurses, Hedwige Triesky, Lillian Yonder and Helen Ozogar. Near the doctors is the very successful novelist, Mary Bordonaro, with Francis Maloney, Truant Officer, and his secretary, Betty Bender.

The assembly over, the Thirty-fivers scamper toward the spacious banquet hall. Joseph John, and Joseph's Furniture Company kindly furnished the chairs which were delivered by Allen's Delivery.

"Let's begin to eat," boomed Jack Anderson, successful plumber in the firm of Anderson and Legler. A group of housewives including the former Josephine Anastasia, Margaret Buck, Mary Cords, Josephine DeMarte, Anne Hickey, Ruth Higgins, Agnes Mallory and Mary Simmons brought in the soup, canned by the Crandall Soup Company, and guaranteed to be noiseless, but tasty. The Swanson, Gibbons, and Kamery Dairy furnished the butter. Josephine Butler, diving champ, dove into her soup.

Thanks were voted to the Bernreuther, Zimmerman, and Harris Grocery Corporation, who furnished the food. The beautiful decorations were donated by Smith, Sherwin, and Riggs, Florists.

At this point, Frances Pfeiffer, head of the Ladies' Aid, Dolores Zaph, hostess of the Elks' Club, and Doris White were seen talking to Madeline Stillitano of the firm of Stillitano, Neil, and Colby. Near them Richard Milliman and John Rudy, contractors, were chatting with Ann Augimeri and Clair Osgood, famous pastry bakers. Several radio stars were also present, including famous pianists, Margaret Klice and Dorothy Saylor. Agnes Stephen, known as Baroness Munchausen on the radio, was much in evidence along with the Musical W's, Helen Wastyk and Ruby Whipple, escorted by their N. B. C. announcers, Elton Hamilton, Stephen Mishanec, and Charles Wood. Arline Johnson, Geraldine Sweet and Elaine Roberts, all owners of beauty shops, were discussing choice bits of gossip heard at their parlors.

At the next table was Catherine Caffo's La Crosse team which included Ruth Lang, Anne Nicholas, Emogene Nolder, Charlotte Simpson, Sarah Small, Jenny Spino, and Gertrude Sturm. Ray Clark, one of our leading lawyers and his secretary, Genevieve Mishanec, seemed to be discussing an important case. (?)

Toothpicks furnished by the Reading, Sutter and Teft Lumber Company were passed out prior to speeches by Jack Moore, drawing instructor at St. Bonaventure College, Louise Lyons, famous poet, Florence Huff, an illustrator, and Vernon Handmore, eminent scientist.

After hearty applause, Fred Waring's New and Revised Glee Club composed of Bertha Bozard, Esther Freitag, Gaylord Frost, Evelyn Halsen, Anne McPeak, Francis Marowski, George Melnyk, Joseph Mohan, Carl Sederholm, Lawrence Ouderkirk, and Howard Palmer, sang a modern version of "What Goes Up Must Come Down." This song ended the banquet. Taps were played by a trio from the Army Band composed of Albert Spino, James Rehler, and Eleanor Gumtow. There were no casualties as the mob dispersed toward the Reunion Dance.

* * * *

Bang, bang. The drummer, Gilbert Orcutt, beat a merry tattoo alternately on his head and the drum. The first arrivals were John Sheehan whose long legs have won for him undying fame as a track runner in the Olympics, and Mabel Kronmiller, the famous violinist, who both were planning to be on time. The ticket-taker, Lawrence Evans, bowed ceremoniously as each "tripper of the light fantastic" arrived. Jimmy Sliger, of Sliger and Donnelly, Undertakers, was dashing madly about sprinkling corn-meal on the floor in order to cause "Jo" Ball, LaVern Gardiner, Lucile Annis and Eleanor Eisert, famous dancers, to fall down and give him a chance to do his stuff. His wife, the former Evelyn Gardiner, looked on.

By this time, all of the dancers and entertainers had arrived except Glenn Swartz, the ivory-tickler, who came a few hours late and pulled a grand piano from his vest pocket. Then the music really began. Piccolo Weaver rendered a heartfelt solo, "The World Owes Me a Living," dedicated to Mary Gustafson and Douglas Sturm, absent because they were busy taking care of a "date" bureau.

Francis Gabler, crooner, arose with dignity and yodeled "Little Annie Rooney" to the accompaniment of "boo, boo" and hisses from Gleason and Mitchell, Dressmakers, while Dean Stimson, Maynard Wright, Norman Johnson, and William Brooks did their best to cover up the noise (?) with their faithful implements.

A professional dance team made up of Spence Weber and Helen Dawson and the Adagio Team of Cucchario, Ludden, and Cucchario tripped daintily before the audience; jokes were told by Judson Hill, comedian. All were loudly acclaimed by Mrs. Dean Stimson (the former Rita Stomierosky) and her companions, Marfisa Salvatori, Evelyn Moore, Harriet Rockwell, and Marion Sheehan. The pupils from the Ross, Scott, and Wright Studio entertained with a charming dance.

The patronesses, Marie Herold, Georgia Ostergard, Genevieve Ash, Mildred Comfort and Ruth Keller indulged in a knitting marathon to liven up the party.

Among the "400," "399" were made up of Mary Olds and Duane Christensen who were showing Virginia Reilly and Mary Duffy, the first women street cleaners, how to do the Continental.

The leader of the various and sundry sounds emitting from shiny brass things, Eddie Wanner, was tangled slightly with the streamers hung from the ceiling by Helen Bergreen, interior decorator. We noticed Jim Bowen of the firm of Bowen and Whipple, druggists, dancing with Mrs. Whipple, the former Irene Dorko, while Dick argued with Congressman Bernard White. Mrs. White, the former Jeannette Geoppner, noted Beautician, was dancing with Lyle Harder, collar-ad man.

By this time, the clock wound up by the Loskey and Kosinski Clock Company, struck midnight. The ochestra began to wheeze "The Old Oaken Bucket." At the end of a special arrangement of this number by June Gilboy, Harold Burdick folded up his "sax" while Jack Randall and Neil St. Clair, June Kriley and Elaine Shedd packed their instruments in moth balls.

The gay dancers collected their wraps from the check girl, Helen Colt. The beaming doorman, Robert Weldon, escorted all of the distinguished people who graduated from the "Gym" High School in 1935, to puffing rocket ships built by Buck Rogers, Marco Lesi, and Richard Hogue, to transfer the party to the Knapp, Lucyszyn, and Richie Restaurant.

Thus ended the reunion everyone thinks of when the water-pipes freeze and toast burns.

"You are old, Olean High School," the young man said,
"All your plaster has cracked in the night;
Alas, the dear roof is gone from your head!

I fear you're a terrible sight."

"In my youth," Olean High School replied to its son,
"Such didos would injure my bearing,
But now that I'm perfectly sure I have none
I have no good reason for caring."

"You are old," said the youth, "as I mentioned before,
And are scattered all over the map
Yet you laughed at the students who wrecked you some more Pray, what is the reason for that?"

"In my youth," said the school, as it shook its gray walls,
"I learned that the students meant well:
They laughed and they chattered all thru my dark halls,
But they learned to speak French and to spell."

"You are old, Olean High School, one would hardly suppose You would welcome the end of your life; Yet only you yawn and continue to doze. Aren't you bothered by injuries rife?"

"In my youth," said the High School, "I held lots of folks,
And met lots of buffets and kicks;
So now these poor blows just seem to be jokes,—
I laugh at the loss of my sticks."

"You are old, Olean High School, and your beams are too weak
To hold any more than these workers—
Yet you held all these children with no sign of a creak;
You held all the apt and the shirkers."

"I have answered three questions; I'll answer no more.

I am weak, and my voice is not strong.

Leave me with my thoughts, and my dreams, I implore:

I am old, and my time is not long."

Montaigne wrote, "Friendship is the highest degree of perfection in society." We, the Junior Class, have done our best to achieve this perfection in friendship, both among ourselves and with the other classes.

The Junior boys have done well in school athletics, and the girls have taken part in their interclass sports, taking second place in soccer.

Plans are being made for Junior pins. We are financially successful, thanks to the aid of the High School P. T. A., and so are planning for a Junior-Senior Prom.

We hope we shall continue through high school as a most successful class, and we wish the class behind us, the Class of '37, the very best of everything.

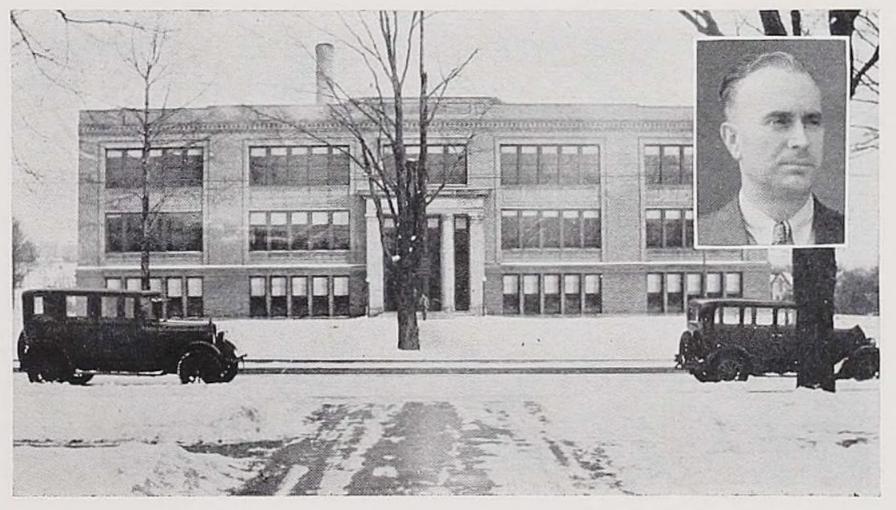

THE HIGH SCHOOL UNIT

HIGH SCHOOL UNIT NO. 5

School Number 5 is the oldest unit having been used as the school home of some of the Freshmen for two years prior to the demolishing of the old building. It is also the largest unit and seems like home to many Olean High School students.

Mr. Harry D. Greatwood is the Principal.

SCHOOL V

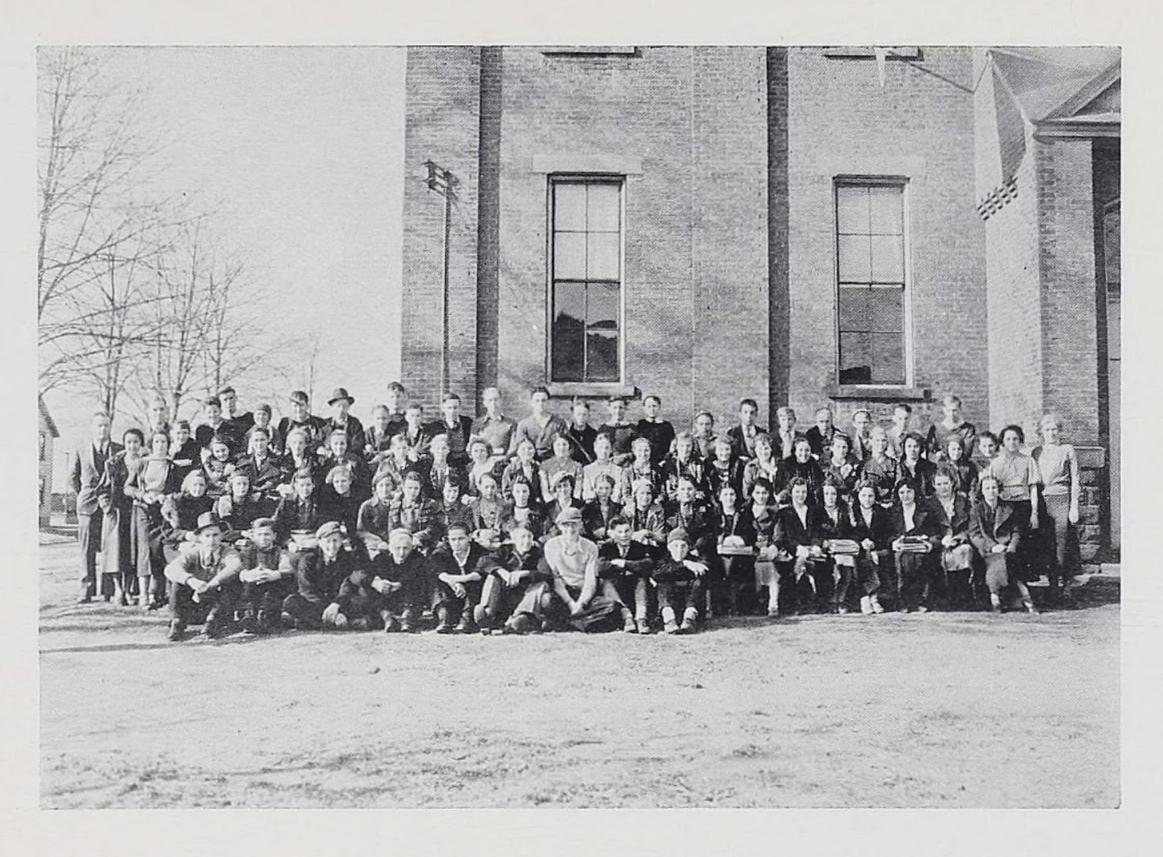

HIGH SCHOOL UNIT NO. 10

Back to Number 10 go a goodly number of Sophomores and Freshmen. In fact, nearly the whole top floor seems quite like a high school all by itself. Here all the music classes have carolled their lays. Here, too, at noon, the Advanced Cooking classes have served the most tempting lunches. Many will remember School 10 as a very pleasant place.

Mr. Ivers J. Norton is the Principal.

SCHOOL X

HIGH SCHOOL UNIT NO. 6

"Recalled to life," might be applied to Number 6. Closed for several years, with windows boarded up and seats removed, it was cleaned, refurnished and filled with lively and enthusiastic Sophomores and Freshmen. Interesting classes and a good spirit prevailed at Number 6.

Mr. Francis Frey acted as the Principal.

CLASS OF 1937

As Sophomores we've N. R. A.'d

And tried to do our part

We're proud of the advance we've made

Considering our start.

As Freshmen, just a year ago
We made our first arrival
And now we "thirty-sevens" show
The fittest's sure survival.

The first year's trials and tribulations
Are now a pleasant memory
The second's varied complications
We've overcome as easily.

We've made new friends, and with the old, We've joined in full support Of O. H. S.—the red and gold On track, on field, and court.

Again we change our status quo;
To Juniors we advance.
And then, with just two years to go,
We'll graduate, perchance.

FRESHMAN CLASS

In September the incoming freshmen came from schools 2, 10, 7, 4, 5 and St. Mary's. In January the class was scattered to all grade school centers while the new Olean High School is being built.

The members of the Freshmen class were active in all sports and other activities.

During 1934-1935, the student council has been active in the intra and extra curricular activities of the school. The usual method for selecting cheer leaders was used.

The Council chose the members of the Student Police to act in their official capacity at the home football games.

A favorable discussion pertaining to the installation of floodlights in the stadium took place. Representatives were chosen to see the business men and Saint Bonaventure to obtain their reactions to the plan.

The Council revised the list of requirements for the cumulative letter. Glee Club and championship in tennis were allowed to receive recognition.

The cumulative letter was awarded to those presenting justifiable claims.

WAYSIDE

Wayside, the oldest club at the Olean High School, was organized more than twenty years ago by Junior and Senior girls. At first the meetings were held in the various homes, but later as the membership grew, in Room 10 in the old building and then in the old Senior Study Hall which later became Room 16.

The early meetings usually consisted of a business session, followed by a literary program of some sort and refreshments. Today much the same type of meeting is held. Twice a year initiations for new girls are enjoyed by the older members.

This year because of unavoidable conditions Wayside has been somewhat hindered in its work. The girls, however, have responded nobly, and the meetings in Room 8 in the High School Unit with special speakers have been interesting ones promoting the spirit of kindly friendliness for which Wayside stands.

In May came the annual Spring Party, as enjoyable as ever.

The Home Economics Club, now in its third year, is well established as a club for all girls interested in home economics. Meetings have been held regularly every two weeks at which time refreshments and entertainment consisting of music, dancing, speeches and plays, were enjoyed. Many enjoyable parties and dinners have been held this year.

The club is affiliated with the national Home Economic Club Association and in this way receives the benefit of the exchange of mutual ideas in connection with home economics. Josephine Walsh and Helen Colt were chosen to represent this branch of the Home Economics Club at the National Home Economics Meeting at Cornell on May 3.

NEW YORK STATE HONOR LEAGUE

The New York State Honor League as its name implies is an honorary society, the aims of which are to increase interest in school activities, to set a higher standard of scholarship, and to develop the qualities of leadership, character, and service.

The first twenty per cent of the senior class of any high school under the supervision of the University of the State of New York makes up the first eligible list. This number is reduced to ten per cent by two votes, the faculty vote, and the student vote.

The membership this year is as follows:

The Boy's Hi-Y opened this year with plans for an active program. They held a dance with music by Johnny Fitzgerald in the Knights of Columbus Ballroom on October 19, 1934. Three of the members, Stanley McMillan, Francis Maloney and Raymond Clark attended the Older Boys' Conference held in Niagara Falls December 7, 8, 9. Many interesting speakers addressed the weekly meetings. On December 11, Francis Cheng, a Chinese student at St. Bonaventure College, spoke on "Modern Social and Economic Conditions in China."

By arrangements of Mr. McLaughlin, Secretary of the Olean Y. M. C. A. a conference of Hi-Y clubs from this district was held in Olean February 3rd. Mr. William Berger of New York City lead an interesting discussion on Hi-Y aims and activities.

On February 28th, the Boys' and Girls' Hi-Y's held their annual party in which the boys avenged last year's defeat by a 33-15 victory in basketball.

During the last of April the Olean Hi-Y debated with Salamanca and held a Bridge Party at the Y. In the last of May their annual banquet and elections took place.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB

The Lettermen's Club, one of the older and more active clubs in the high school, is the largest this year that it has been since its organization.

The aim of this club is to create, maintain and extend throughout the high school a friendly feeling between different athletes and the more prominent students.

To gain admittance to the club, one must show distinguished service in different branches of athletics or earn the so-called "twenty point" letter.

On December 19, 1934, the Lettermen sponsored a dance which was one of the outstanding social events of the year. The profits from this dance, plus the aid given by the P. T. A. Dime Dances, enabled the club to obtain sweaters for the new members.

This year the club has had the addition of four girls who have earned the twenty point letter. This achievement marks a distinction not previously attained by the girls, and we hope that their numbers will increase.

The members of this club are looked upon as idols by the underclassmen and certainly they deserve the respect; it is not a club that just anyone can belong to by a simple vote of the members.

To the Lettermen who graduate, we wish a prosperous future; to those who remain, we wish success, with the hope that they will do their best to make the school a famous one, especially in the athletic field.

The twenty-point cumulative lettermen are:

Michael Barbaro Arthur Black James Crowley Jane Crowley Earl Ek Marshall Houte

Harold Kamler Donald Kenney Ruth Lang

Mary Olds Helen Perkins

THE SKETCH CLUB

Although a few of the high school activities were discontinued because of the destruction of the old building, the Sketch Club has been active throughout the present year.

The club is for all high school pupils, freshmen as well as seniors. It is to encourage those who like to draw or who desire to learn to draw. Outdoor sketching is part of the program. The members also sketch from the costumed model in colored chalk.

The freedom allowed to the students of this group encourages individual expression. The members have derived much benefit from the suggestions of Miss Ball.

Beginning in January, the meetings have been held in the lecture room of the Olean Public Library every Thursday evening.

The officers of the Sketch Club this year are:

THE GHOST PARADE

Ann and her friend, Mamie Rose, have come from New York to take possession of a country hotel which Ann has inherited. But instead of a prosperous establishment they find a queer ramshackle old building with the few remaining boarders about to leave. Weird ghostly figures steal through the halls at night, and everyone is frightened out of his wits. The girls are frightened too, but they pluckily stand their ground as other developments follow: a treasure map is stolen and their lives are threatened. But they have their friends to help them. The excitement culminates in the third act with a storm howling outside, a weird greenish light shining through the windows, and the friends within terrified by things natural and supernatural. However, all's well that end's well and a happy ending results in the "ha'nts" being detected and the development of several thrilling romances in the encounters of various members of the cast.

THE VIRGIL BANQUET

The slaves hurried around the room, performing last minute tasks. Everything must be as good as possible, for this was the great "Virgil Banquet." At last the guests arrived, gowned in their best togs, tunics and stoles. Even some of the gods and godesses from Mount Olympus honored the feast with their presence.

Dominus Sackettus arranged for a portrait of all the guests to be taken, to grace the Hall of Fame (or would it be "Rogues?") Then the famished Romans were led, one by one, to their places by submissive (?) slaves. The places were marked with place cards bearing a quotation to suit the personality of its owner, and each person reclined luxuriously before his card on hard wooden chairs. Each guest also had a menu at which he could gaze and visualize how delectable the forthcoming courses would be while the pangs of hunger devoured him, practically, as the slaves were entertaining.

Between, before, and after each course, there was a long pause, during which the gods, goddesses, and mere Romans, enjoyed conversation, relaxation, and entertainment. Above all the clamor, the sweet (?), high resonate voice of the goddess, Diana, rose, lamenting the fact that her sacred bow was being mistreated by the careless slaves. Our slaves were most talented. The servae rendered a be-u-tiful chorus—"We won't Dance" (Thank goodness). The slave collars really were a masterpiece.

The most enjoyable and educational fact of the banquet was a lesson given by Domina McMahon and Dominus Sackettus on the proper methods of devouring circera virida with a knife.

Of course, the sacrifices to the gods were made by that worthy master of ceremonies, Dominus Colmanius, after which the libendus came. The vina mixti fruiti was most effective, especially on some guests. We have audible reasons for thinking a certain Dominus had what is commonly called a "hangover" the next morning.

Between each course, aqua mevibees was passed and the remark was heard that "I've never washed my hands so much before in all my life." An important accessory to each costume was a towel. These varied in sizes, some being extremely small and others extremely large.

When the guests had had sufficient of the bonus vinus, groups of four puzzled the rest with pantomines of scenes from the Aeneid. These were elegantly staged with elaborate scenes and ambitious scene shifters.

At last the guests called for their sandals and dispersed after a most enjoyable time.

OBJECTIVE—To create and maintain closer relationship between home and school, that the students may gain the highest advantages in education.

MEMBERSHIP—Three hundred seventy-five.

ACTIVITIES—While the activities have been somewhat curtailed by the building of a new High School, the Association has, so far as it has been possible, co-operated with the various school organizations.

The Association has co-operated with the City P. T. A. Council in presenting Life Memberships in the State P. T. A. to Wm. C. Greenawalt, Superintendent of the Olean Schools, and Dr. John C. Armstrong of St. Bonaventure's College.

During the year, programs have been presented emphasizing "Citizenship." Besides excellent presentations by students and members, the Association has had the pleasure of hearing Hon. Evan J. Jones of Bradford, Rev. J. Vincent Growney of Portville, Dr. John C. Armstrong of St. Bonaventure's College and a splendid program by the Bradford P. T. A. The local group presented an interesting program for the Bradford organization in return.

The Association united with School Five P. T. A. in presenting an entertainment at the Ashton Parish House. Two one-act plays were given, one by members of the Dramatic Club and the other by a group of parents and teachers. Selections were rendered by a group from the High School orchestra.

THE DRAMATIC CLUB

Over one hundred students enrolled in Le Chanteur, the Olean High School Dramatic Club, under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Herzog and Miss Elizabeth Baldwin. Each meeting had something definitely planned such as: study of plays, speech training, exercise poise, outside speakers and entertainers.

The Olvera Street Marionettes, a most elaborate presentation, was sponsored by the Dramatic Club and the Music Club. This program brought to Olean, for the first time in many years, that most enjoyable form of entertainment, the puppets.

A Debating Club was organized by several members of the Dramatic Club under the direction of Mr. Smith and Miss Herzog. Many interesting debates were given. Arthur Black was elected president and Merle Parker vice-president.

A Hallowe'en play, "The Magic Chest," was given with the following cast: Merle Parker, Karl Williams, Carlton Chamberlain, Edward LeValley, Betty Geuder, Charlotte Yahn, Ronald Coleman, Robert Thompson, Betty Ball and Ruth Taylor.

"The Comrade in White" was presented over Station WHDL on Armistice Day. Those who took part were: Jane Crowley, Earl Harter, Jane Davidson, Arthur Black and Janet Sibley.

"One Gift Above Another" was given both at the Dramatic-Music Clubs Christmas party and at Rocky Crest with the following cast: Jere Dunlavey, Marie Herold, Migon Riley, Robery Zimmerman, Elizabeth Canada, Ruth Lang, James Crowley, Marian Donnelly, Robert Sullivan, Alice Sutley, Thomas Fisher, Faustina Marino, Betty Steinhart, Margaret Harris, and Ellen Jane Renshaw.

"Sauce for the Goslings," a one-act comedy, was presented at the last program held in the old building with the following cast: Carl Geise, Mary Geise, Donald Kenney, Kathleen Cain, Regina Corrigan, Edmund Wanner and Maxine Edwards.

The Dramatic Club was invited to enter the Little Theater Guild High School Play Competition. Third place was won with a one-act comedy, "A Wedding." This play was also given at Rocky Crest and at a P. T. A. program. The cast was as follows: Edmund Wanner, Jane Davidson, Carlton Chamberlain, Earl Harter, Arthur Black, Betty Steinhart and Eleanor Runals.

ALMA MATER

(Words by Brady Shoff, 1931)

Oh, Alma Mater, fair and true,
Thy honor we acclaim;
We rally round the Red and Gold
To laud thy noble name.
In thee we students shall renew
Our faith of days gone by,
Across the years we'll live anew
Thy spirit, Olean High.

Dear Olean, thy loving ways
And charms will ever be,
Those memories of golden days,
Those friends and hearts so free.
To thee we pledge thy honor due,
And, parting, sound thy cheers.
Our thoughts of you, so staunch, so true,
Will live thru all the years.

STAND UP AND CHEER

Stand up and cheer,
Stand up and cheer for Olean High School!
For today we raise
The red and gold above the rest, above the rest!

Our boys are playing
And they are bound to win today,
We've got the rep, we've got the rep,
We've got the pep, we've got the pep,
And we're all for Olean High.
Rah! Rah! Rah!

ATHLETIC COUNCIL

The Athletic Council is one of the oldest and most responsible organizations of the Olean High School and consists of a president, vice-president, secretary, managers of football, basketball, track, four faculty members, and five student members.

The election of the student members takes place at the annual September meeting at which all the members are present. Auditing of bills, awarding of insignias, approving of coaches' recommendations for purchase of equipment and other business is carried on every alternating Tuesday.

Membership in the council is a real responsibility and is regarded in this way by the faculty representatives and by the students.

Coach Utecht

The Red and Gold of Olean High School, coached by "Hookey" Frey and his able assistant, "Norm" Utecht, enjoyed a fairly successful season winning four games and dropping but two.

In the first game the Hilltoppers crushed Depew by a score of 53-0. In this fracas, "Bulldog" Lazar and "Jakie" Griffin made successful debuts.

The following week the Yeomen invaded Salamanca and through a last minute pass from Ed Stavish to Tony Palumbo they defeated "Sally" 13-6.

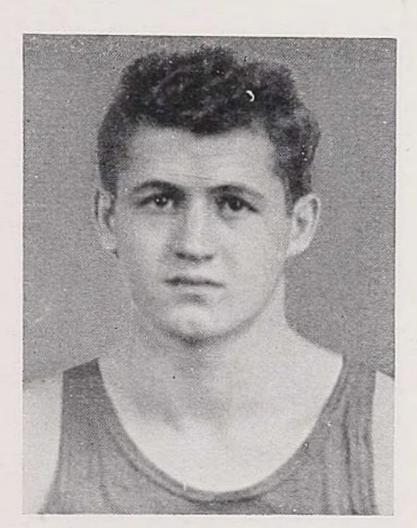

A highly touted Dunkirk team invaded Bradner Stadium the next week only to be turned back 12-0. Captain "Rayme" Questa starred offensively and defensively throughout this contest.

Olean visited Jamestown the following week minus the presence of their beloved coach, "Hookey" Frey, who was in the hospital. This game was lost to the "Swedes" 8-6, after a hard fought battle in which Ray Questa scored on a lateral pass.

The Silver Creek game was a complete route in favor of the Crimson Wave. The entire squad ran wild to conquer of plucky Silver Creek lads 38-0.

The most important fray of the schedule, Olean dropped a 14-7 decision to their ancient rivals, Bradford. Lazar scored for Olean in the first half, but Bizarro of Bradford took things into his hands and ran the Crimson ends dizzy. This game was broadcasted over Olean's new radio station, WHDL.

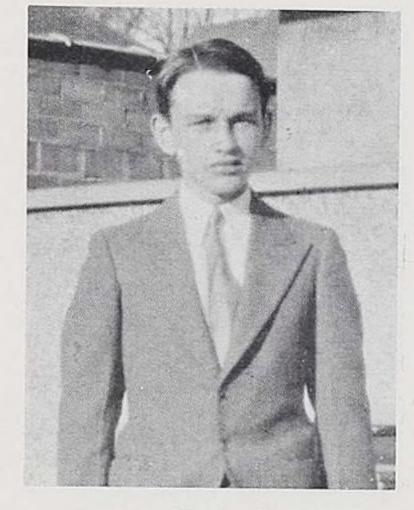

The following earned varsity letters: Captain Ray Questa, W. Smith, L. Lazar, R. Griffin, J. Shortell, C. Heinz, E. Stavish, W. Coleman, M. Borst, T. Palumbo, J. Ford, M. Simon, G. Hildebrandt, G. Butchello, C. Flynn, W. Padlo, M. Houte, A. Heil, A. Rogers, G. Prince and N. Barbaro, Manager.

Olean, during their 1934-35 court campaign, enjoyed a successful season winning ten games and losing but seven. Among the laurels gained under the leadership of Captain Marshal "Pete" Houte was the Class A championship of Cattaraugus County.

The season was opened against Depew. This fracas was won by the Hilltoppers. 'Bud' Hannigan making a successful debut with eight points. A close one was dropped when the Crimson Wave journeyed to Salamanca the following week to lose 20-18. The Ye-O-Men made a new start against Delevan the following week, winning a thriller. Allegany was the next victim, falling by the close score of 19-18. Ten Broeck Academy was next to be taken "into camp." On the following week-end the Crimson Tide split a brace of games, winning from Portville and losing to our ancient rivals, Bradford.

The local cagers defeated Salamanca to avenge the first loss to the Rivermen. Delevan took a heartbreaker from the Hilltoppers on their "Matchbox" court. The following week the Crimson swamped Allegany at the State Armory, with "Bud" Hannigan scoring fourteen points. In an overtime period Portville vanquished the Red and Gold by a 25-20 score. On the following night Bradford scored their second court victory, 20-18.

Hannigan led Olean to another victory against Franklinville, in a game which was a complete route. Jamestown conquered our lads on our court by a score of 25-20 after we had led them throughout the game.

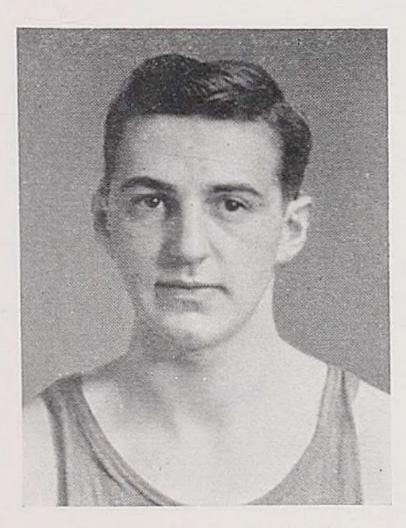

The following week Olean and Salamanca played off at St. Bonaventure's court for the Class A championship of the Eastern division. In the final minutes Captain Houte sunk a charity throw and Ed Stavish a pretty field goal to win for the Crimson 19-16.

Olean won the County Championship in a wild erring game against Randolph which the former won handily 24-9. The season was closed in a playoff game against Jamestown which the "Swedes" won over 24-23, the latter being in rare form.

Captain Houte and "Bud" Hannigan were chosen on the mythical all East team while Ed Stavish was placed on the second team. Hannigan grabbed high scoring honors of the game with eight points.

The following were awarded Varsity letters:

Captain Houte, Billy Smith, "Clarey" Heinz, "Bud" Hannigan, Ed Stavish, Tony Tarantine, "Mike" Ewanciew, Earl Ek and Manager Joseph Scutello.

TRACKTEAM

Although no track meets have been held at the time of this writing, prospects are bright for the Crimson track and field men.

Several veterans are left from last year's team, foremost among whom is Tony Palumbo, holder of the County record in the 220 yard dash. Tony is expected to be the mainstay of the team in the 220, the shot-put and a member of the relay team.

"Jerry" Prince and Ezra Sprague, also veterans of the relay team, are both expected to go far this year. Prince is a crack 100 yard dashman while Sprague is a quarter-miler of no mean ability.

Other letter men of last year's team are Carl Geise, winner of several vaulting events, Dick Whipple, a fine broad jumper, Noble Johnston, diminutive miler and Earl Ek, holder of the County Record in the 220 yard hurdles.

Several new aspirants look promising. Foremost among these are "Marty" Tepper and Alvin Bernreuther, both quarter-milers.

The relay team has one position open to a newcomer as only three, Tony Palumbo, Gerald Prince, and Ezra Sprague, are back from last year.

As in former years, the half-mile will be the Crimson Wave's weak point.

The future looks bright and the Red and Gold will no doubt win a majority of its meets and place high at Alfred.

Raymond Sullivan will manage the Trackmen this year.

GIRLS' SPORT COUNCIL

Object:-

- 1. To promote student leadership.
- 2. To organize girls' athletics.
- 3. To develop the interest of more girls in athletics.
- 4. To have a student, interested in girls' athletics, represent the girls on the Athletic Council.
- 5. To have all students participating in athletics as members of the Athletic Association.

Election:—

1. Officers are elected by the girls participating in athletics of the year previous.

During the building program at the High School the girls sports will be given over entirely to those which are conducted out of doors.

In the Fall, Soccer is the chief sport. In Spring, there is Baseball, Track, and Tennis, while the Hiking Club continues through the Winter months.

BASEBALL

In June, 1934, the Freshmen Class won the Baseball Tournament. They were Captained by Margaret Ozogar and managed by Dolores Reaz.

As far back as 1928-29 when the present system of Girls Athletic Awards was introduced, for the first time the Freshmen Class have produced a championship team. We are looking forward to this class coming through each spring and winning the championship four years in succession, thus adding another honor to their already great one.

Games started soon after Easter vacation.

Ann Angimeri, Helen Perkins, Mary Olds, Mary Cords, Helen Kolata Mrs. Webster, Jean Perkins, Irene Dorko, Lillian Yonder, Ruth Keller

SENIOR SOCCER TEAM

The Senior soccer team again proved its worth by winning the championship.

The Seniors held the lead all through the tournament and were only threatened once and then by the Juniors.

In the first games the Seniors and Juniors were tied 1-1, while the Freshmen defeated the Sophomores by a score of 1-0. The Seniors and the Sophomores then overcame their losses by defeating the Freshmen and Junior teams respectively by scores of 1-0. If the Juniors had not lost this game they would have tied the Seniors and been a strong contender for the title. In the final games the Seniors defeated the Freshmen 1-0, and the Juniors easily defeated the Freshmen by a score of 3-0.

A banquet was held at the close of the season in honor of the victorious Senior team.

The members of the Senior team are:

Helen Kolata Marjorie Swartwood Ruth Keller Mary Olds Mary Cords Irene Dorko Ruth Perkins Helen Perkins Jean Perkins

Seeking Cooperation

in enterprises for the advancement of the interests of Olean is the main job of the Chamber of Commerce.

The members of the Board of Education, the faculty and the student body have definitely helped to build Olean by aiding in planning its progress and the dissemmination of information regarding it, thus the educational work of the schools is by no means limited to the class room.

The real value of your printing lies in its effectiveness . . . in the actual results it produces. Of course, it is natural for a person planning a piece of printing to say, "How much will it cost?"

The price hasn't a thing to do with its effectiveness. What you really want to know is what will it do . . . will it produce business for you?

Keep that thought in mind always when you buy printing. "Will it produce results" rather than "What will it cost?"
