America the Beautiful

O beautiful for spacious skies,
For amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties
Above the fruited plain!
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

O beautiful for pilgrim feet,
Whose stern impassioned stress
A thoroughfare for freedom beat
Across the wilderness!
America! America!
God mend thine every flaw,
Confirm thy soul in self-control,
Thy liberty in law!

O beautiful for heroes proved
In liberating strife,
Who more than self their country loved,
And mercy more than life!
America! America!
May God thy gold refine
Till all success be nobleness
And every gain divine!

O beautiful for patriot dream
That sees beyond the years
Thine alabaster cities gleam
Undimmed by human tears!
America! America!
God shed his grace on thee
And crown thy good with brotherhood
From sea to shining sea!

OLEAN HIGH SCHOOL
OLEAN, NEW YORK
For the School Year 1940-1941

Foreword

THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE is the embodiment of the principles of life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. This community spirit of youth, found in every American high school, is a splendid interpretation of this idea.

The Congress Staff of 1941 aims to present on these pages scenes of happy student life, and of participation in both curricular and extra-curricular activities. These provide both pleasure and profit during high school days, and afford the training through which these young Americans may ever play their parts well in the AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE.

Dedication

BECAUSE he has a vision for promoting the educational well being of the boys and girls in Olean—because he is an experienced teacher of many of the class of 1941—and because he holds the esteem of both students and teachers, we dedicate the 1941 Congress to . . .

Our School

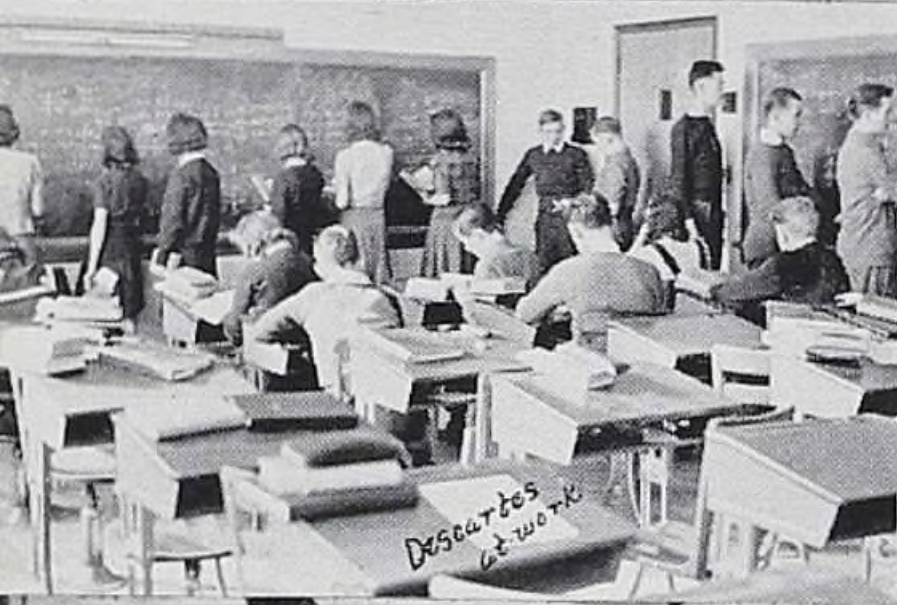

Our School

THE AMERICAN WAY is a way of self-directed living. For this, training in youth is essential. Such training must include not only the essentials of a curricular course,—but it must also include the diversified interests and activities that make for well-rounded personalities, well-rounded lives, and well-rounded contributions to society.

Student activities mean wider experiences, self-direction under mature counsel and guidance, enriched acquaintance with pupils of similar tastes, and opportunity for accomplishment in socialized programs.

Participation in the various activities which the school offers means enlarged fields for self-expression; a bit of insight into vocational possibilities; and, in general, the resourcefulness and poise that is characteristic of modern education.

And more important than all else, the working together in the promotion of student projects is the best possible training program for DEMOCRACY and the AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE.

Alma Mater

Oh! Alma Mater fair and true
Thy honor we acclaim,
We rally 'round the Red and Gold
To laud thy noble name.
In thee we students shall renew
Our faith of days gone by;
Across the years, we'll live anew
Thy spirit, Olean High,
Across the years, we'll live anew
Thy spirit, Olean High.

Dear Olean, thy loving ways
And charms will ever be,
Those memories of golden days,
Those friends and hearts so free;
To thee we pledge thy honor due,
And parting sound thy cheers;
Our thoughts of you, so staunch, so true,
Will live through all the years,
Our thoughts of you, so staunch, so true,
Will live through all the years.

1941 in the High School Library

"ALL OUT AID", the 1941 slogan, has been exemplified in O. H. S. Library by an increase of the N. Y. A. Staff to four: Jean Conklin, Helen Lian, Doris Moses and Geraldine Rogers.

More and better library service has been the result. All the statistics woven into the fabric of this article were taken from the annual library record to February 24th, the press date set by the Staff of Congress.

At that time fourteen sections of books, nearly half of the collection had received Library First Aid administered by Helen and Jean. Scores of new backs had been grafted onto as many veterans in this modern "Battle of the Books". As in some Disney Fantasy, bottle after bottle of white ink, jar after jar of orange shellac from the Wood Shop had been transferred as by magic to the backs of hundreds of books as Jean and Helen lettered, numbered and weatherproofed.

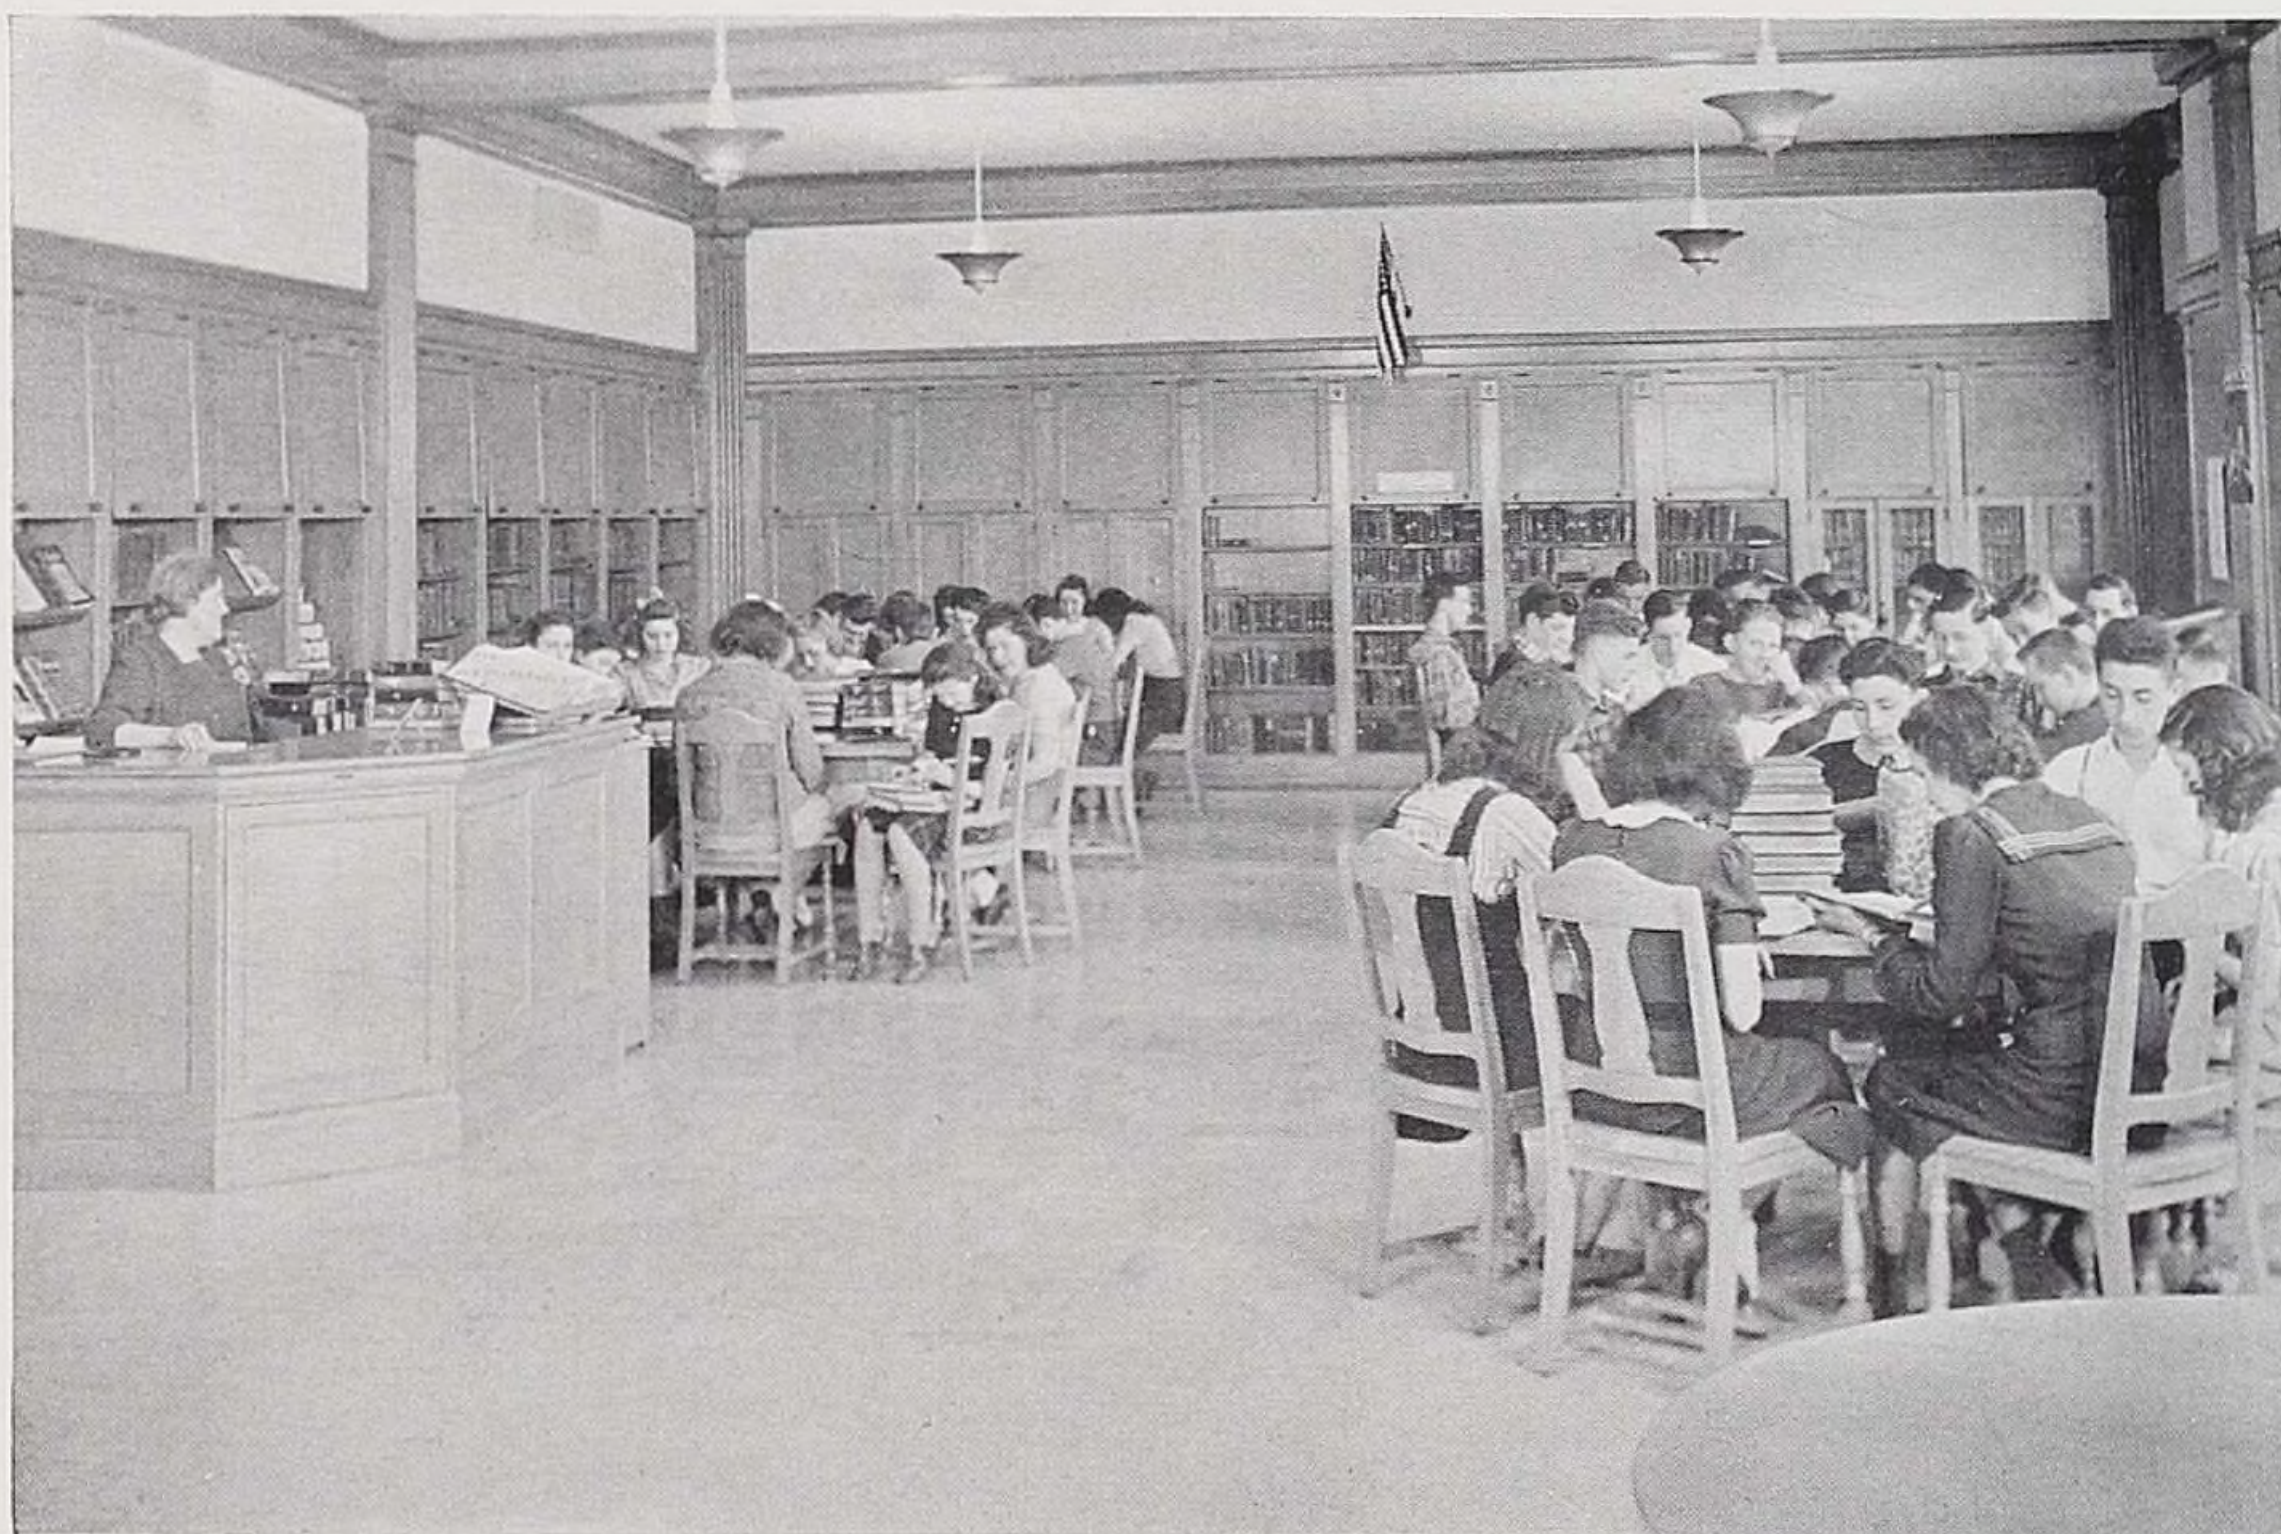

Behind these first aid stations were the clerical forces, Doris and Geraldine, who under Miss Schleich's direction ran the Remington noiseless in typing title and subject cards for the catalog and later filed them with the author cards prepared by the librarian. This service finished, Miss Schleich and her pupil clerks attacked the problem of the annual inventory and the subsequent revision of the catalog.

Two new mural decorations were made available, a poem, "Libraries in America" from the Library Journal on hand made paper thru the courtesy of the Westinghouse Company and an illuminated "Bill of Rights" from the Christian Science "Monitor".

The following is an average monthly report of the use of the library from September 11th thru January 31st: Individual Circulation—Monthly average: Total 1280; Pupil 1190; Faculty 91. Individual Attendance—Monthly: Total 3202; Pupil 3158; Faculty 45. Number of classes in attendance—Monthly average 24.

These classes were Advanced Biology, Economic Citizenship, Economic Geography, English and History.

Gifts to date—Josephine Lawrence's "If I Have Four Apples" from Joyce Dudley Wallace and two copies of Price and Ticen's "Index to Vocations" from Helena F. Schleich.

THE Student Council is a representative group from all the four classes in school. At the first 1940-41 meeting the members of the Cheerleading staff were elected and a system to use Junior Cheerleaders for home games was inaugurated.

Other responsibilities taken over by the Council were: the promotion and directing the school participation in the Finnish Relief Fund and the Greek Relief program; participation in the Inter-School Conference of Student Council members at Bradford, May 9, 1941.

The Council had the entire responsibility of planning and directing an evening parade, "Pep" rally, and bonfire program before the annual Bradford-Olean football game.

Several meetings concerning the 20-point letters were held where the system of awards were reviewed and revised. At the close of the year, framed 20-point letter certificates were awarded to Seniors who had been prominent in school activities.

The staff has been responsible for the four column issue of "Congress" which appeared in the Olean Times-Herald on Saturdays. Their major project for the year has been the publication of the class annual—"Congress"—1941.

Miss Hobart and Martin J. Faragher are the advisers, and Miss Anna Ball has charge of the art work.

This staff affiliates with the Western New York Interscholastic Press Association. At the conference in Buffalo, in November, the 1940 Congress won the first prize trophy.

New York State Honor League

THE NEW YORK STATE HONOR LEAGUE is an honorary state-wide organization of high school students who rank highest in scholastic ability and extra-curricular activity. The purpose of the league is to promote good scholarship and school citizenship.

The members of the league in each high school are chosen by two processes of voting. A list of all seniors with the highest grades, up to and including the previous January examinations, is first submitted to the teachers. They select from this list a number equal to fifteen per cent of the class, of those whom they consider of the finest character and of most value to the school.

The result of the teacher vote is then submitted to the Senior class who then select ten per cent of the number of the Senior class for the year. Character, value to the school, and future promise are the points upon which their selections are made.

The Junior Play

THE Junior Class thrust forward its annual dramatic challenge to the Seniors in the form of an uproarious comedy, "Galahad Jones".

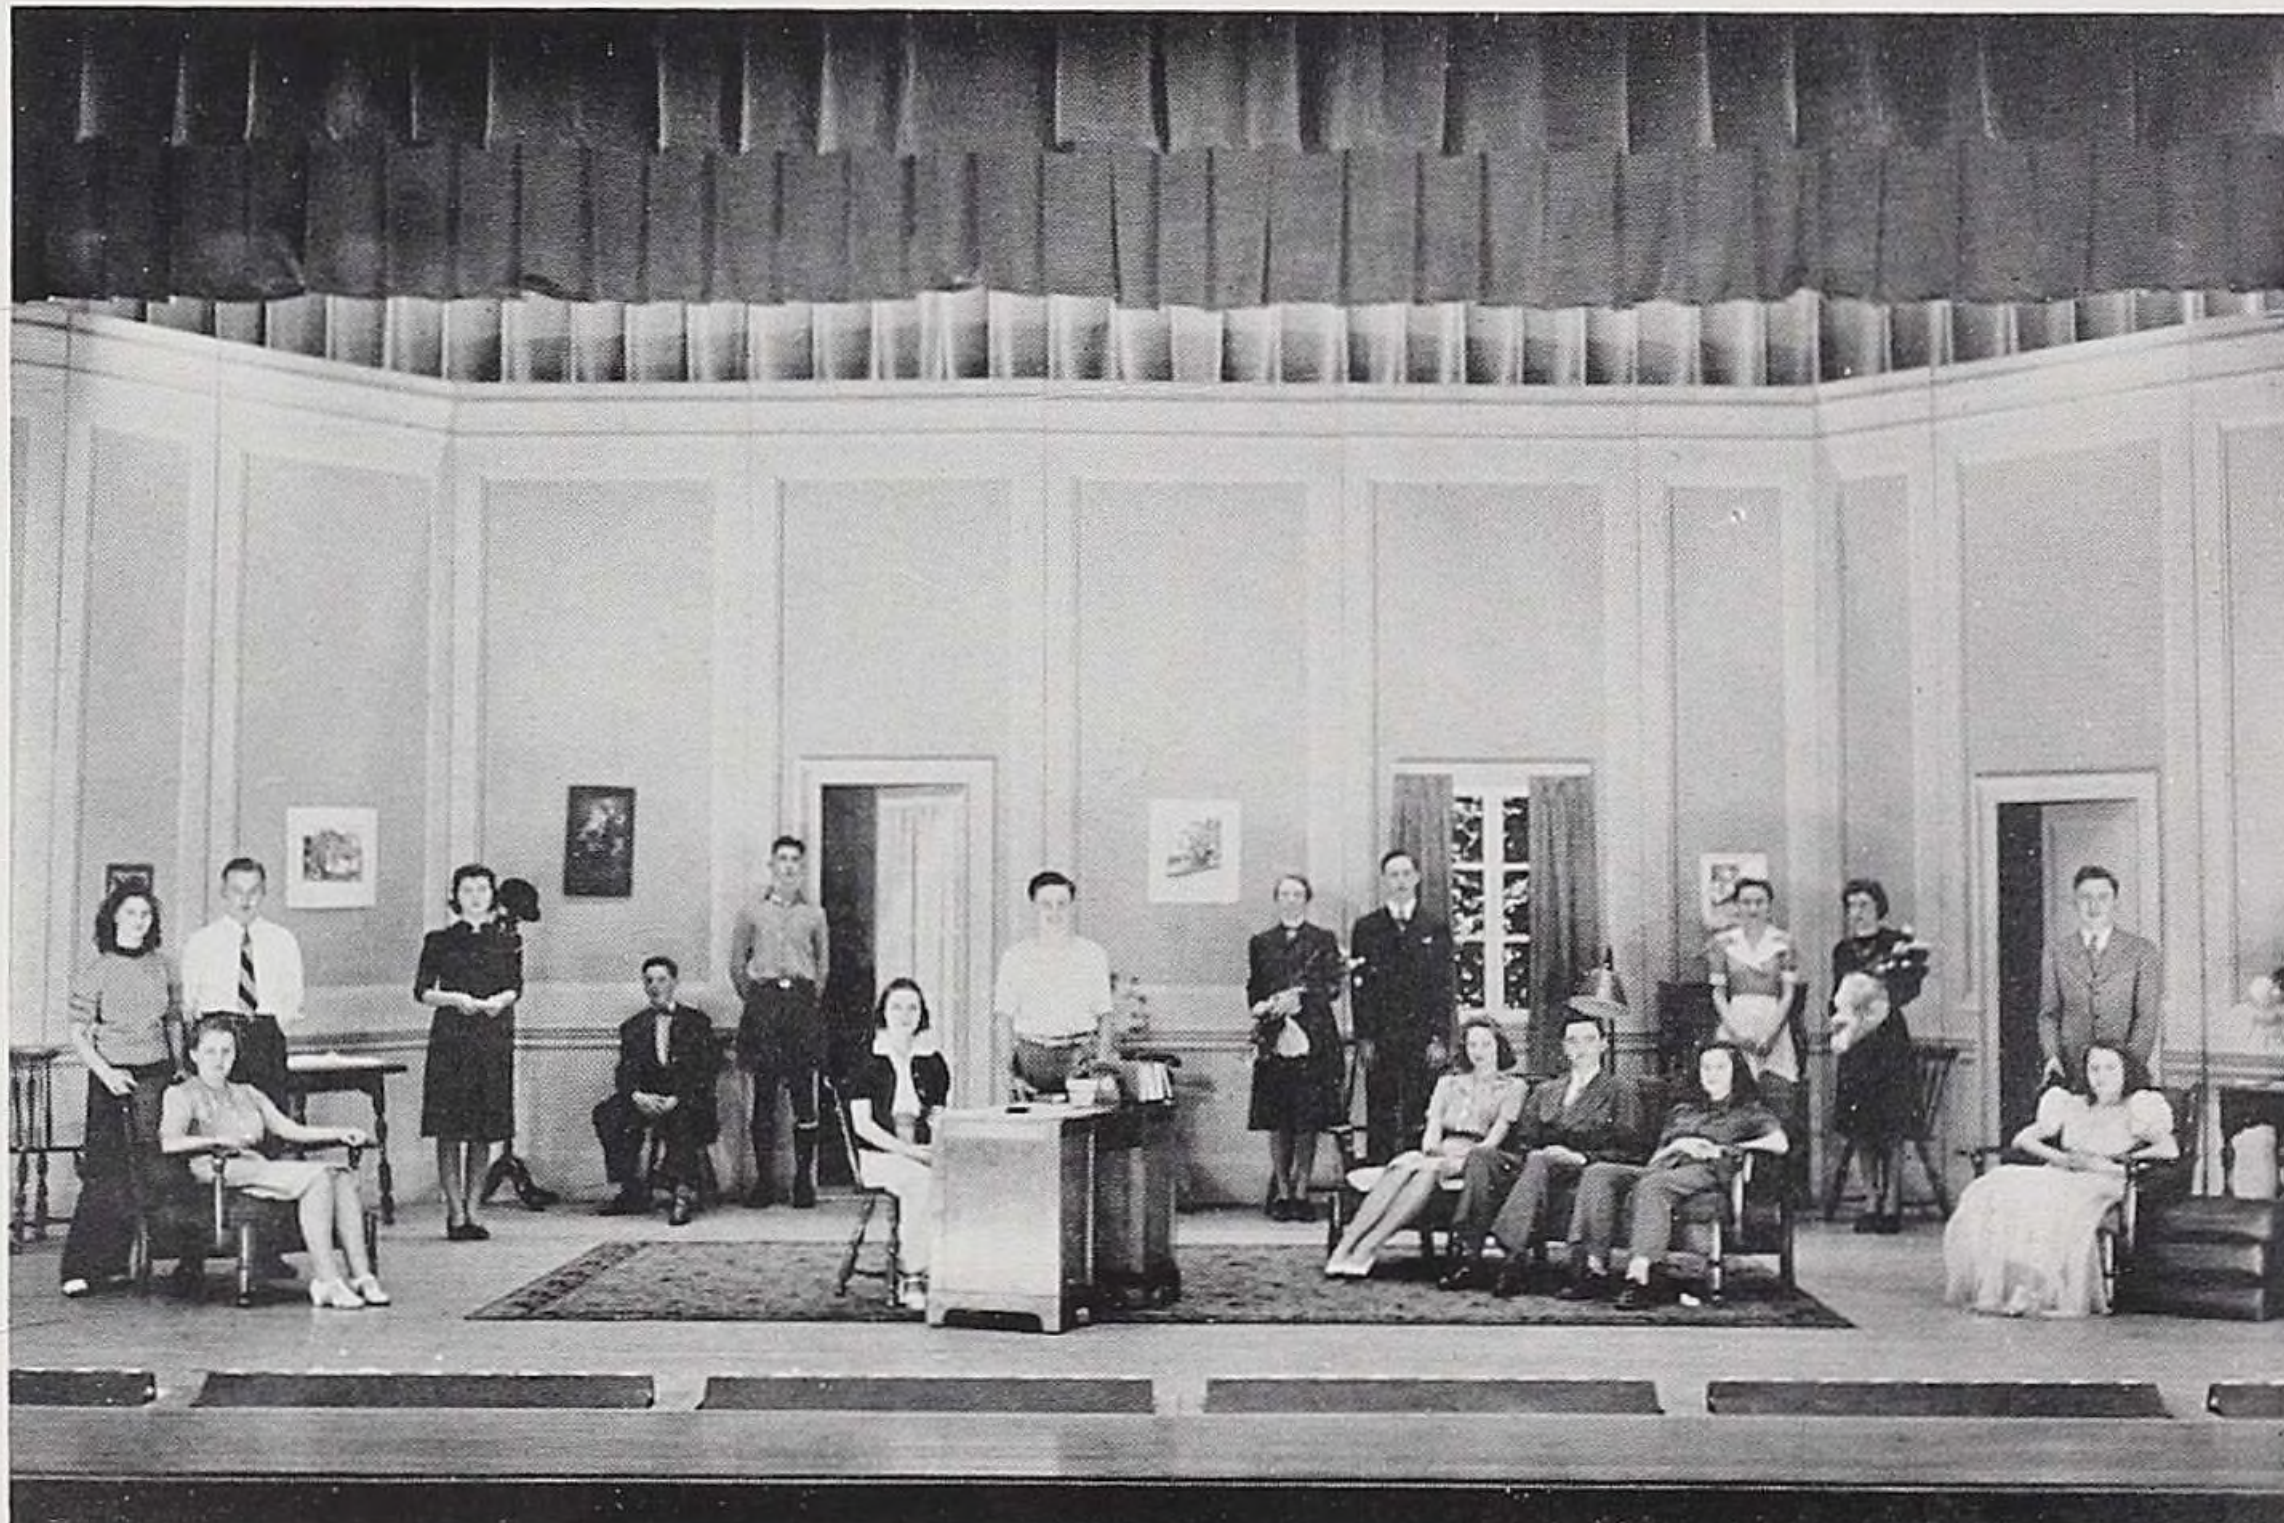

The interest and sympathy of the entire audience was stirred by the efforts of idealistic Tommy, youngest of the Jones family, (Joseph Lennon) to convert his family and environment into another court of King Arthur. Affected by the fine qualities stressed in "The Idyls of a King", he found the twentieth century atmosphere cheap and shallow, and he had consequently been nicknamed "Galahad".

The fact that Mr. Jones (Bernard Carlson) alternately fumed and roared at his policies only spurred Galahad on. Sweet, motherly Mrs. Jones (Jean Conklin) tried in vain to protect her bewildering son from the sharp criticism of Alice (Jeanne White) and the ridicule of Joy (Jean McDermott), his elder sisters.

Tommy's and Joy's crowd added to the former's misery by the same mockery that he received at home. This crowd was made up of fun-loving Gus (Ed Pavel), excitable Bob (Robert Adams), lackadaisical Bess (June Baldwin), and Lou (Helen Offenbach), who was apt to be attacked by brainstorm. One of the most important of these concerned Tommy: she proposed to import winsome Miriam, her attractive cousin, to turn Tommy's attention from Arthurian ideals. However, although Tommy did "tumble" for her, Miriam's appearance only increased his obsession. Miriam was perfectly portrayed by Mary Jochimson.

Phyllis Murphy, as the comical, temperamental Swedish maid, Lena, only made matters worse by telling gruesome tales about her truck-driving brother, Olaf Jenson (Philip Reitz). The enraged Tommy challenged the big tough to "mortal combat". It was in this way that Tommy found himself involved with a gang of notorious tobacco thieves. In mortal terror from threats Jenson had sent, Tommy's family and friends further upbraided him. Only Miriam and District Attorney George Merton (William Pelton), engaged to Alice, believed in Tommy and tried to help him. George and a G-man finally captured the gang and Tommy became a hero.

The Senior Play

"THAT GIRL PATSY" produced May 14, was the answer of the Senior Class to the Junior challenge earlier in the school year.

"That Girl Patsy" is the story of Patsy Davis, expertly portrayed by Joan Quigley, a little slum girl who is adopted by a wealthy family on the recommendation of Miss Harper, a social service worker (Mary Good).

Patsy was warmly welcomed by motherly Mrs. Warren lovably acted by Marjorie Kerns. Mr. Warren played by Paul Snodgrass who made an excellent, stern, but just financier was opposed to her coming, but soon fell a prey to her gay youthful spirit and her adolescent philosophy. Julia (Ellen Fane) took her to her heart and so did Bob (Allan Carpenter), the Warren son and heir.

Opposition came in the form of Philip Greer (Charles Seltz), a scoundrel, who was blackmailing Julia, and Violet, who was Bob's cold and affected fiancée, enacted by Marjorie Rodie.

Comedy was provided by Bob Fairchild vs. Orlando Powers, a scholarly professor, and by Bob Slawson as Fred Coulson, a gay young polo-player, both Julia's suitors. The servant angle was shown by Pat McLean as Susie, the English maid, and by Michael Landon as Denny, the Irish gardener. A continual scrap was in progress between these two.

The whole play was very well produced, as was shown by the applause of the audience. A great deal of the credit for its careful and finished production went to Miss Herzog, the capable director. Laura Jane McDermott was promptress for the play, and many other seniors were members of the committees that helped to make the play a success.

Musical Revue

NOVEMBER 15, 1940, the music minded people of Olean and vicinity attended the showing of the combined musical organizations in the High School Auditorium. This performance emphasized the importance of the dramatic and musical work being done in the High School music classes.

A feature of the revue was the excellent work of the A Cappella Choir in the performance of the operetta "On the Nile".

They displayed their unusual musical ability with popular marches and at the same time thrilled the audience with the perfect maneuver of the U. S. A.

The newly formed Hill Billy Band added much gaiety to the evening's entertainment and the humorous abilities of the members were outstanding.

Colorful scenes decorated the auditorium when the Girls' Glee Club sang and danced to Irish tunes in native costumes.

Accompanying the Glee Club in their dance was the High School Orchestra. Other than an accompaniment, the orchestra offered selections before and during the revue.

Much credit is due Miss Robertson, Mr. Edel, Mr. Rice, Miss McKay and the Camp Fire groups who worked so very earnestly to make the revue a success.

THE SKETCH CLUB offers opportunities to develop talent in Art to all students. The students of the high school are the coming artists of tomorrow, those who will give us pleasure derived from paintings, sculpture, and crafts.

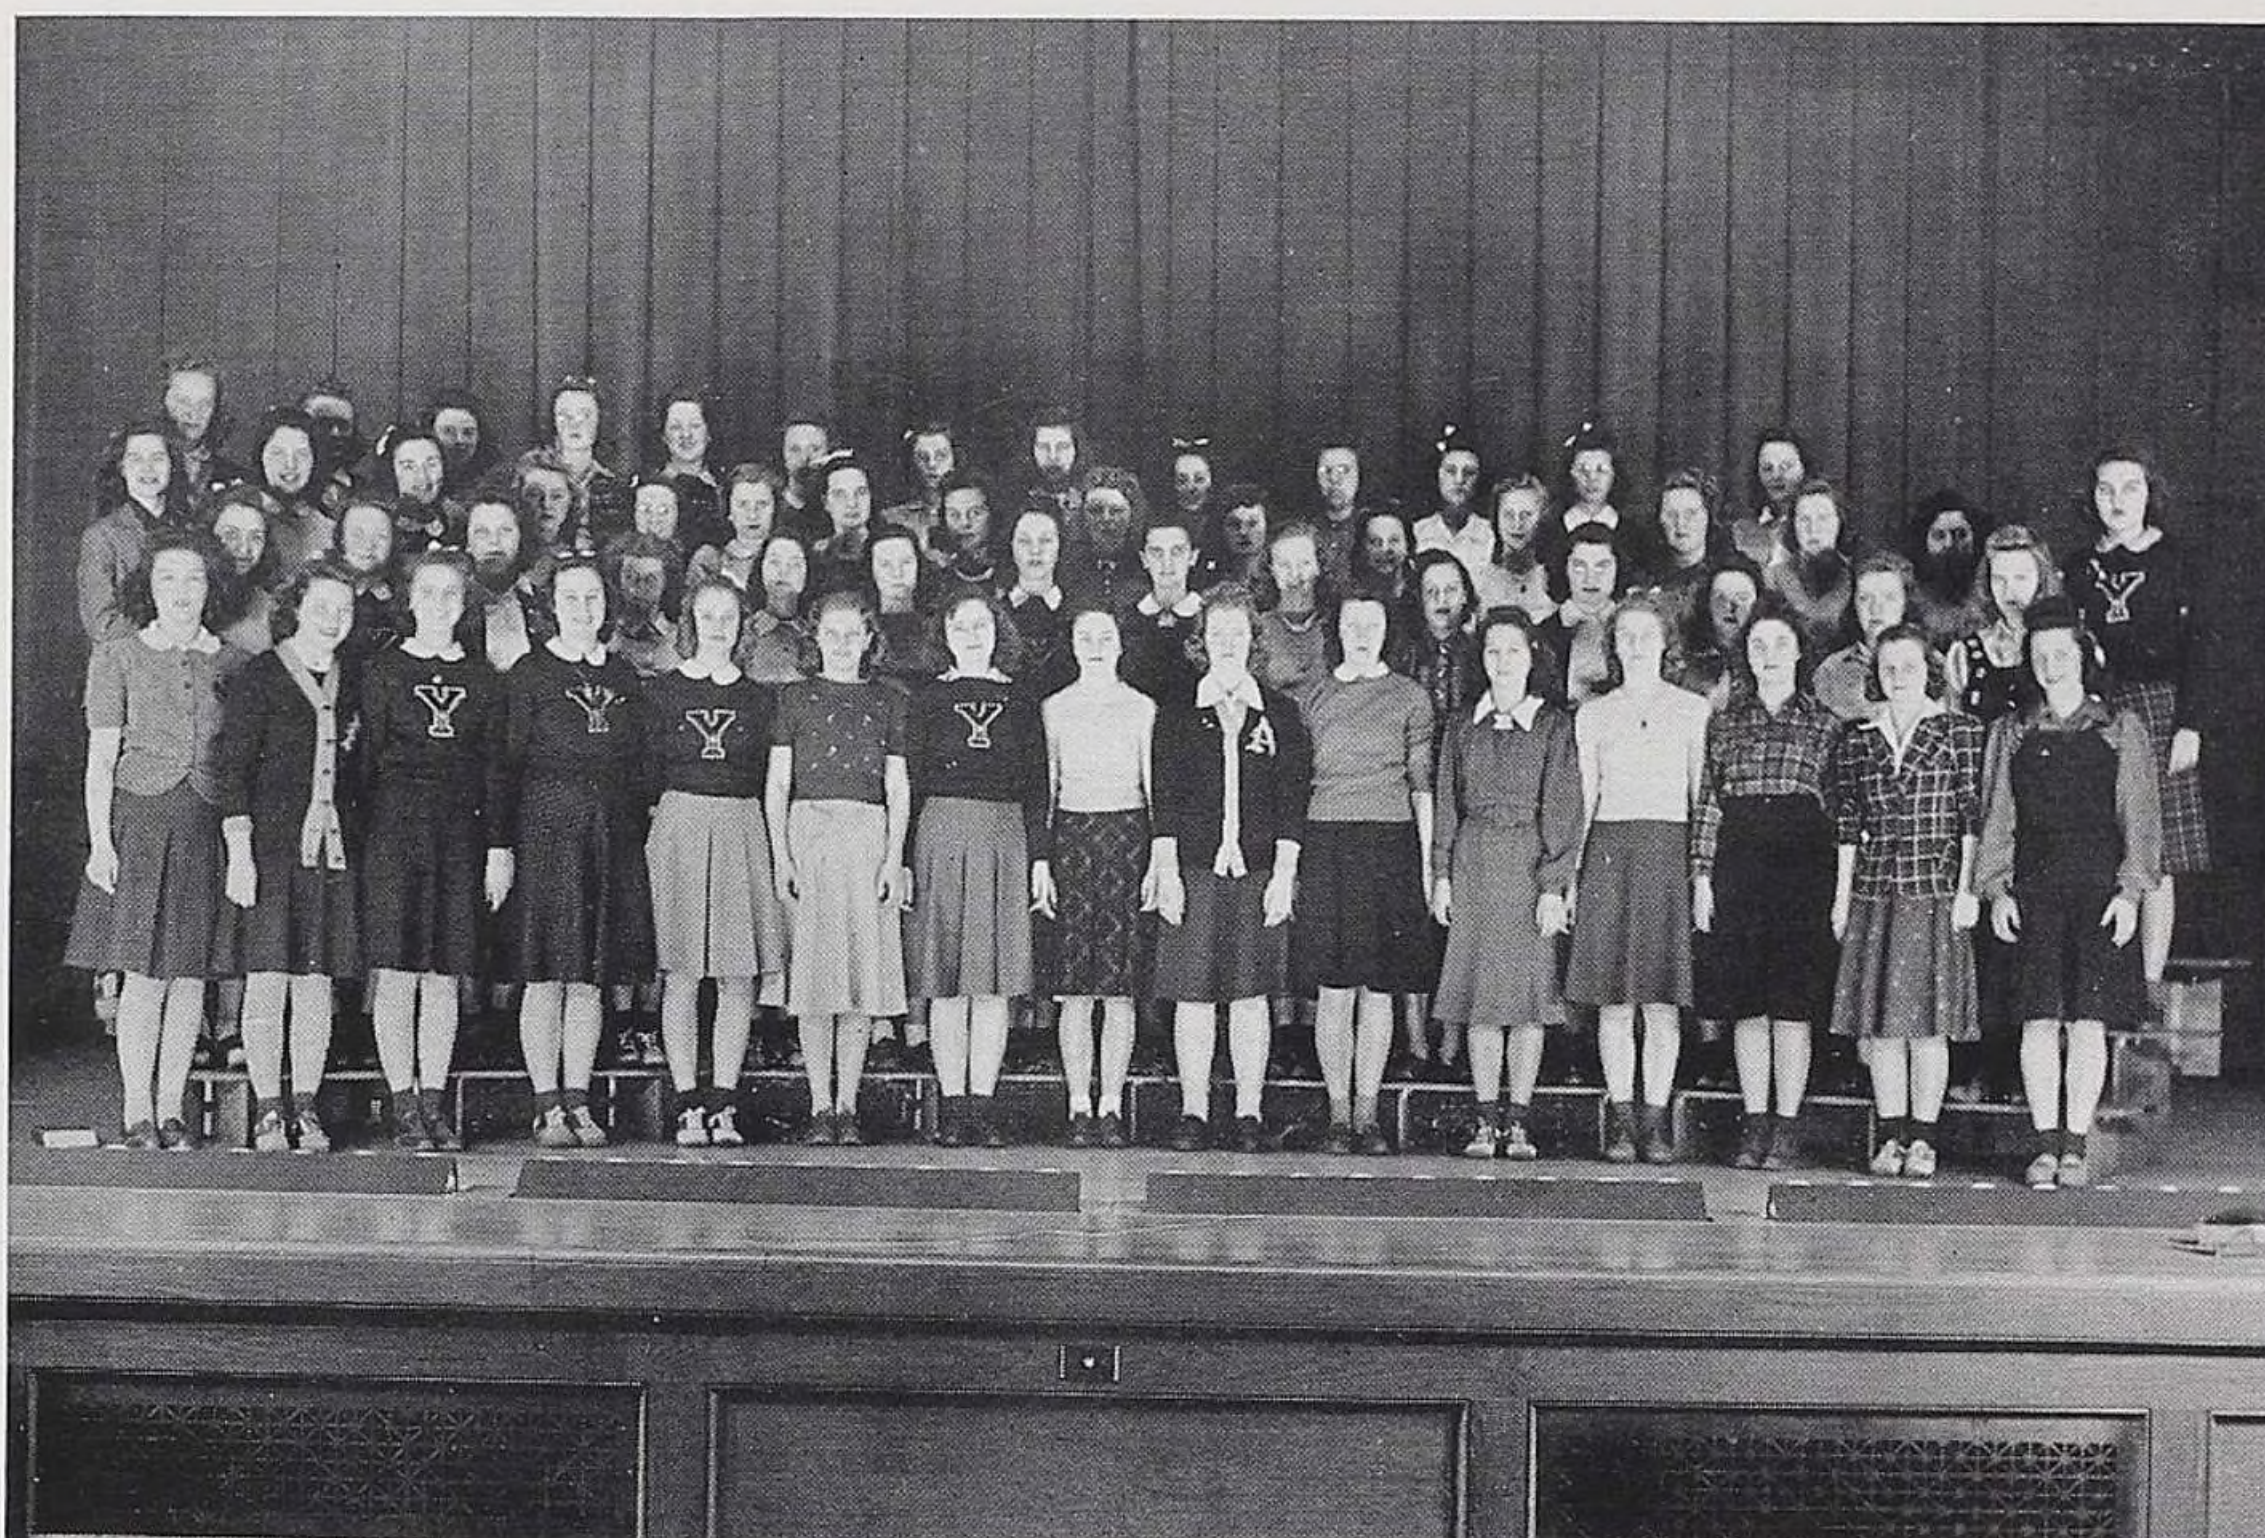

In this club, freshmen, as well as seniors, are welcomed so that all may get a knowledge of the principles of sketching. Charcoal, water colors, and other mediums are employed to acquaint the students with the tools of the fine arts.

Discussions of current events in the art world are carried on. Demonstrations of painting are given by local artists in the art room, and exhibits of paintings held at the Olean Public Library, traveling exhibitions of students' art from other schools and exhibits from museums are of much value.

In pleasant weather members enjoy outdoor painting and picnics.

Models who posed during the year were as follows: Marcella Edel, Janice Fee, Ray Rickerson, Jean Lewis, Jean Troupe, and John Ash.

WAYSIDE has been an active organization in Olean High for over forty years. Junior and Senior girls are eligible for membership. The purpose of the club is to promote friendliness, and a spirit of loyalty to the school among upper class girls. "Do what you are afraid to do" has long been the motto. The cultivation of courage should be an important factor in character formation in the life of every American girl. Wayside meetings this year have been conducted according to the principals of parliamentary procedure. Miss Percival instructed the girls at the first meeting in the basic rules and helped during the year. Various talks on subjects of interest, music, a little insight into Choric reading and a good stunt program have enlivened the bi-monthly meetings.

As a bit of real service to the school, Wayside sponsored one Assembly. Mrs. Mace, a refugee from England, was secured as a speaker. In a very well organized address she made her audience see and feel the horrors to which England has been subjected, and the courage and heroism of those who still hope for a nobler England.

The outstanding social event of the year was the Wayside Spring Party on June 6 which was colorful and enjoyable to the many attending it.

Wayside helps in the development of a girl's personality. It is a democratic club where each member may assert herself, gain poise, and gradually grow into a charming American woman.

THE A. M. C. is a social club which was founded two years ago at the Y. M. C. A., devoted to the ideals of the Y. M. C. A., that of cleanliness in mind (Animo), spirit (Mente), and body (Corpore).

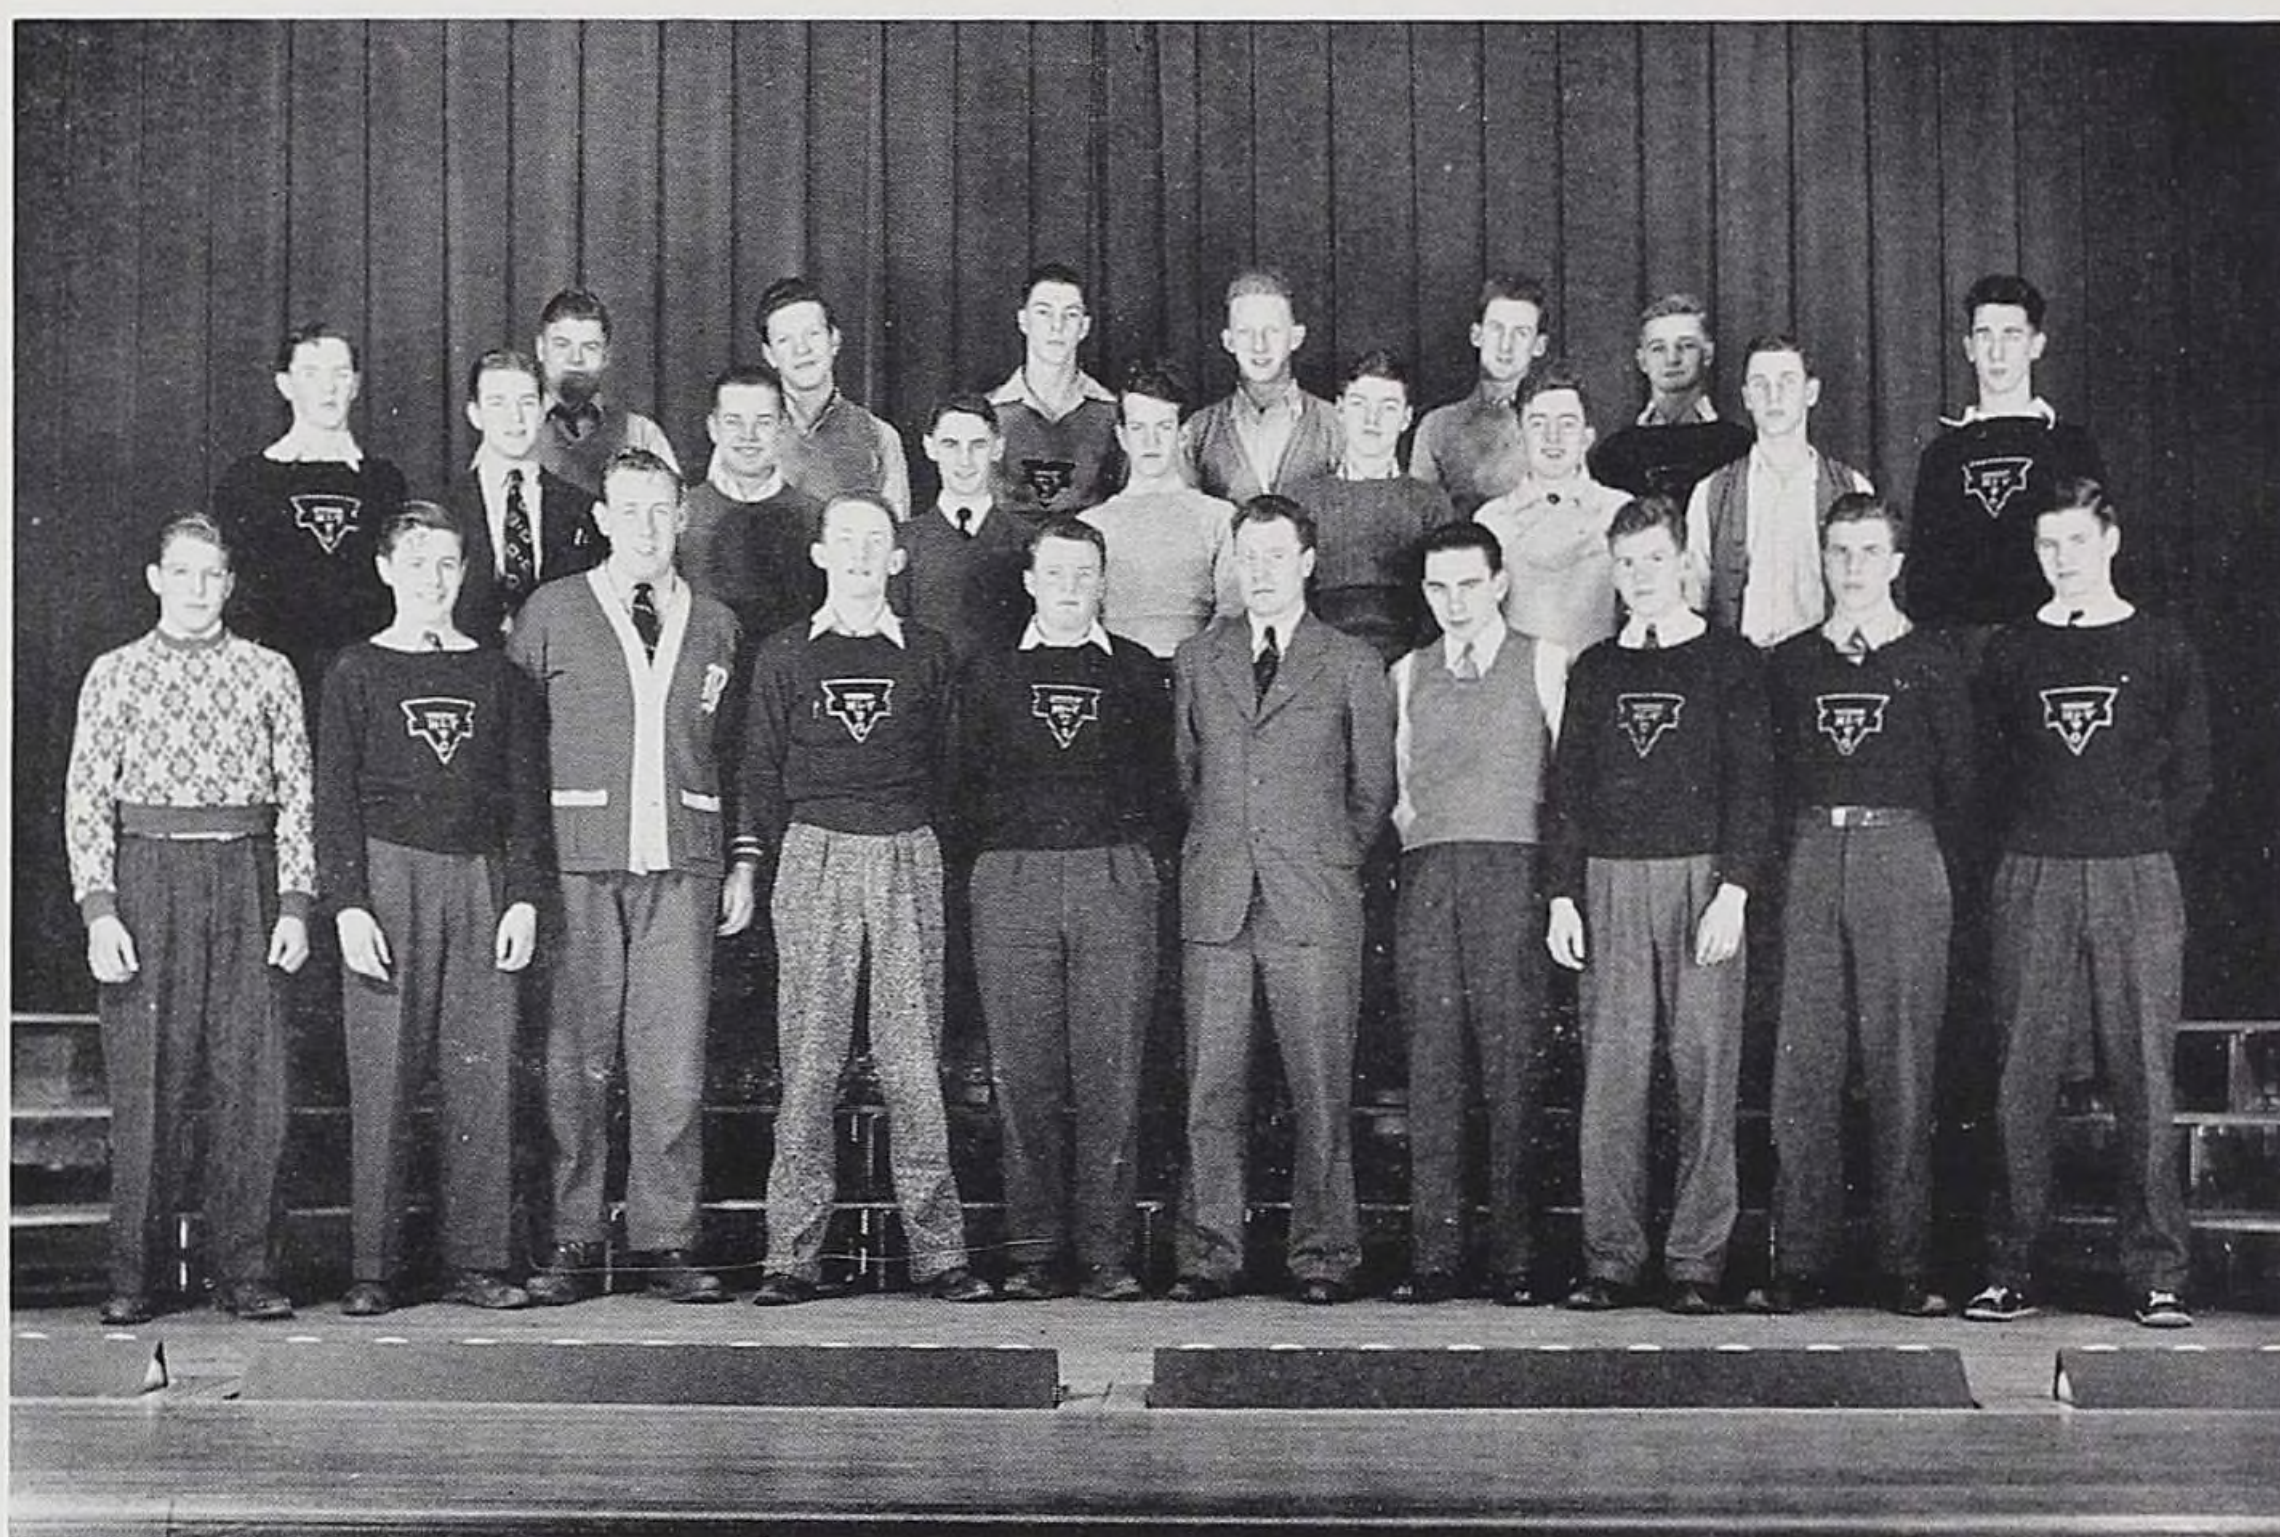

The purpose of the club is to promote a kindlier, friendlier feeling among the girls of high school age: to be good sports whether in games or in the everyday problems of living; to discuss the problems which fall to them, and to teach them to live good Christian lives and ever to uphold the highest American ideals.

Included in the activities for the past year were a talk by Mrs. Emens on "A Trip With Teddy Roosevelt", a talk on the activities of the blind by Mary Ann O'Donnell, a Christmas party and informal dance. Some of the members have done knitting for the Red Cross.

An extensive project is under way at the present time. This program consists of collecting appropriate American slogans, studying American costumes, music, Art, literature, homes and health. It is planned to take up one phase of American life at each meeting. The girls are to make scrap-books, conduct exhibits, and otherwise attempt to exhaust each phase before going on to the next.

Pledgees were taken into the club in September and January. The club now has twenty-eight members.

THE BOYS' HI-Y has grown apace since its organization, and interest in its many activities has mounted steadily. Character and citizenship represented by its enthusiastic members, who meet once a week to discuss and cooperate in its numerous plans, in promoting the club's advancement aims to give every member the privilege of self-expression and an opportunity for the development of leadership.

During the year, the unit has accomplished a great deal in promoting a greater feeling of unity and responsibility for the supremacy of the American way of life.

The Boys' Hi-Y under the capable guidance of Mr. Smith welcomes and encourages live subjects of current interest in national affairs, aiming to keep its members well informed and abreast of the critical times in our democracy.

The year's well-rounded program in the various fields of interest were discussed by distinguished guest speakers in their particular fields. Among others the talk on "Trial by Jury", given by Mr. Ernest Hornburg proved very interesting and educational to the members in enlightening them as to the advantages of democracy, when applied to the practices of our courts.

Among the various social activities promoted by the club, were a card party and dance. On the speaking platform a new form of debate was introduced. This debate was received with keen interest, and was enjoyed by all. The club's social affairs will close with a banquet, which has always proven to be the highlight of the unit in previous years.

THE GIRLS' HI-Y CLUB is a Christian organization which endeavors each year to promote clean sports, clean speech, clean scholarship, and clean living and thereby make courageous and worthwhile American women. The object of the club is to extend high standards of Christian character to the school and community. Meetings are held weekly at the Y. M. C. A. Programs of interest, including monthly speakers and worthwhile activities, are planned.

In September, Mrs. Robert Fisher became the new and able sponsor of the chapter. Among the activities in October was a Hi-Y dance, which proved very successful, a very interesting talk by Professor Hayes, a Hallowe'en party, and the Hi-Y membership banquet.

In November the entire club was invited to a dinner given by Mrs. Fisher at her home. Enjoyment and appreciation were expressed by every member.

The annual Christmas baskets were prepared in December. They were distributed by the club members to the needy families in the city.

In February a successful card party was held.

Between March and May the club members sewed for the Red Cross, heard interesting speakers, and held an enjoyable dancing party.

In May pledges were taken in and duly initiated.

At the last meeting the officers were elected for the year of 1941-1942.

THE HOME ECONOMICS CLUB has become a well-established extra curricular activity in Olean High School. Each year this club chooses a new and interesting project. This year Red Cross work was introduced. The members enthusiastically responded to "the call to thread and needle". As a result of the girls' sewing industriously three nights a week, the Home Economics Club provided 50 babies layettes and 24 flannel shirts for the stricken civilians of Europe. The girls and sponsors of this club may well be proud of their American spirit of humanity in helping these war-torn countries.

Every year the Home Economics Club plays hostess to the faculty. The teachers of the Olean High School are guests at a tea where friendly relations between teacher and pupil are promoted. This is a fine way to start the year and many more clubs should follow this plan.

There was a Home Economics convention held at Syracuse this year and Olean sent Alice Murray as a representative. At this convention, various Home Economic clubs of New York State had open discussions and told of the different projects of their own clubs.

Under the competent direction of Alice Gene Murray and Helen Dorland, who also were officers last year, the club has completed an interesting and helpful round of Home Economics work.

1. Home Economics VI girls piecing quilt for the apartment.

2. Family Life girls serving a tea for guests.

3. Home Economics II boys' panel discussion, subject—etiquette.

4. The Junior Red Cross Group sponsored by the Home Economics Club.

5. Home Economics V making layettes for the Red Cross.

6. Jeanie and her mother.

7. Jeanie, our Home Economics baby.

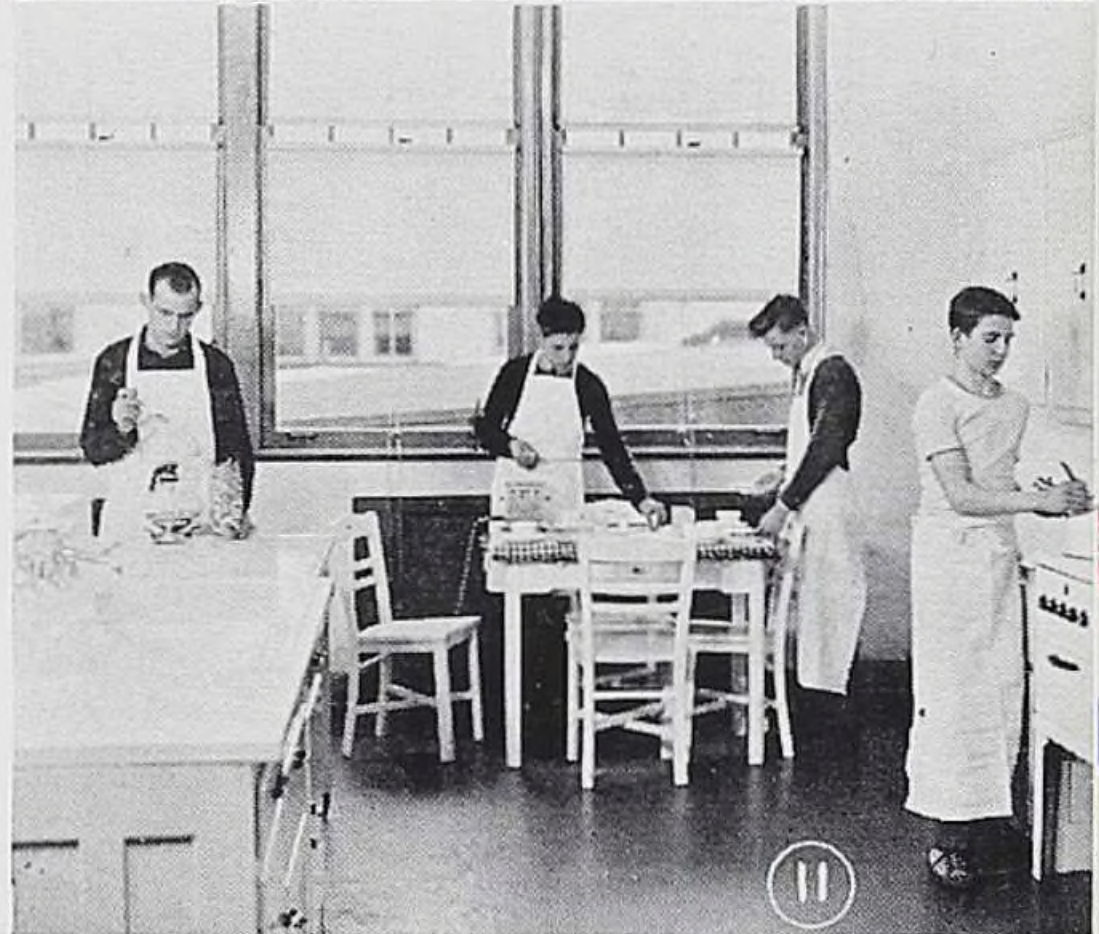

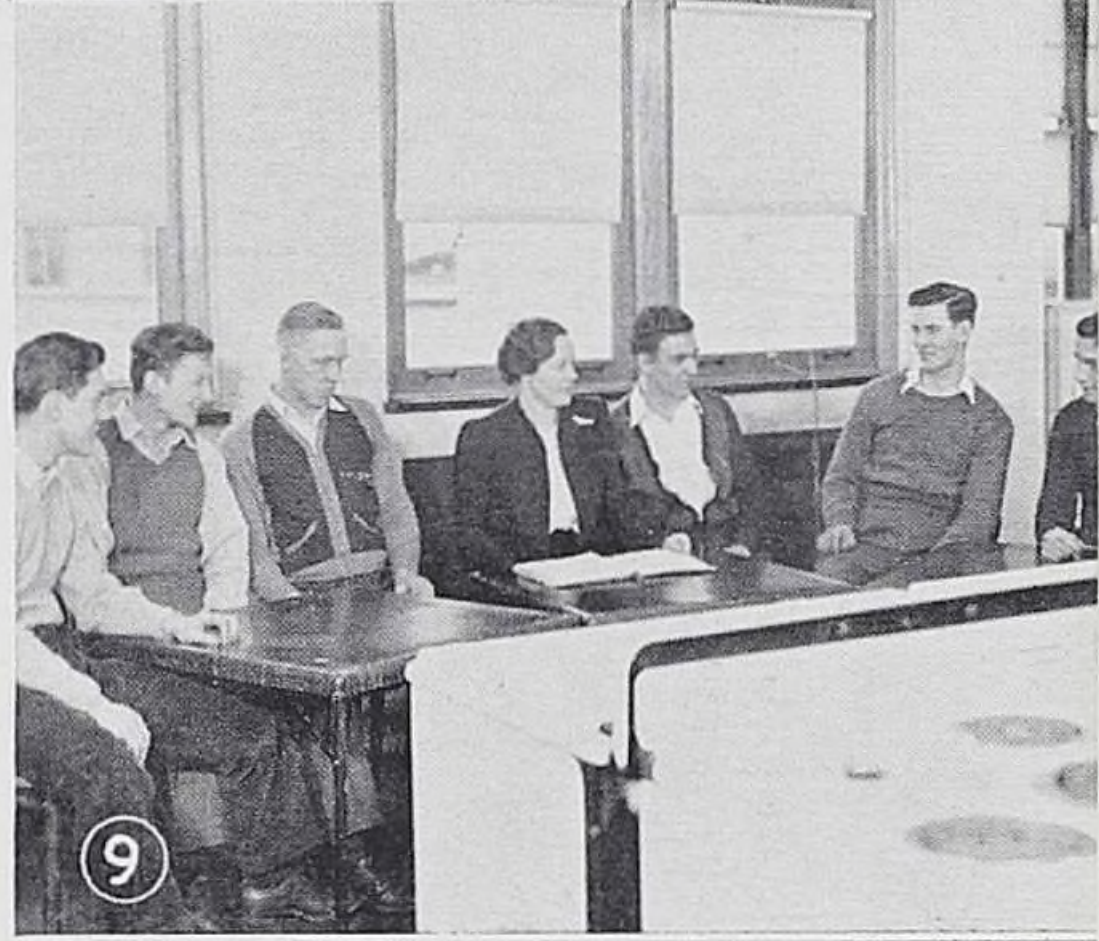

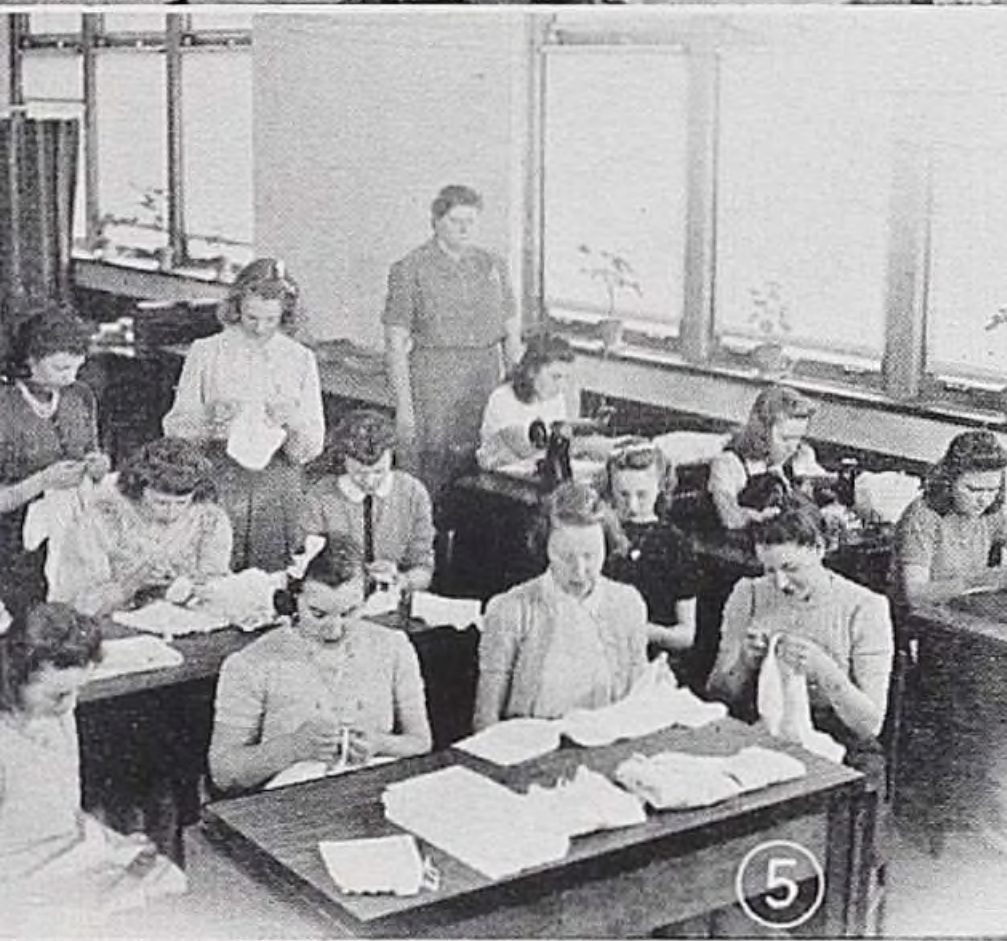

8. Jeanie and the child care class.

9. Mrs. Wallace summarizes the panel discussion with the boys.

10. Home Economics III class compiling the cook book for the surplus commodities.

11. The boys preparing breakfast.

12. Boys' class in foods.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS is made up of French students who are interested in furthering their knowledge of the customs and the language of the French people. A meeting is held every other Tuesday.

During the past year many interesting programs took place. Among these were a New Year's party, a quiz, interesting speakers, and skits by the third year French class. The quiz was composed of questions concerning French life. This form of both entertainment and knowledge was enthusiastically received by the entire club.

Someone may ask how the French Club fits in with the American way of living. The answer to this is as follows: To be a truly good American one should gain knowledge of other countries. There is no greater way of gaining this knowledge than by taking the language. Therefore, since Le Cercle Francais enables students to learn about the customs and language of the French people, it is also indirectly teaching them to become better Americans.

Although the oppression of the French people is now very great, they will doubtless rise again to become one of the great powers of the world.

Under the able direction of Mrs. Cruse and Miss Trenkle the French Club has become one of the most outstanding extra-curricular activities in Olean High School which will welcome into its membership many more members in the year to come.

THIS year the Classical Club had many instructive and entertaining meetings. Miss Karl gave a very interesting talk on Pompeii which she had recently visited. During the second semester the club enjoyed a talk given by Mr. Souders on Roman architecture. The club also helped plan a dime dance.

An annual event in which the Vergil class participated was the Vergil banquet. The pupils studying Vergil, including June Kreamer, Betty Tiller, Gregory Pavone, Frances Madigan, Gloria Segal, Philip Reitz, Keefe Good, Joan Quigley, Marjorie Rodie, Leora Hirliman, and Betty Ross, as well as their guests, arrived clothed in togas (shirts to you). A hilarious time was had trying to adopt Roman customs.

In studying Latin one learns much about Roman law. This was the greatest contribution made by the Romans to democracy. Roman democracy and its fall is also studied. In learning of the reasons for the decay of this democracy, the pupil is better fitted to meet the problems which face our democracy today.

Rome from its beginning up to now has had almost every kind of government, from an empire to a democracy. In the transition many good points of government were incorporated into their laws.

Studying Latin teaches a student to study carefully and work purposefully. This habit once formed aids one to become a disciplined thinker who is especially valuable in our "American Way of Living".

MATHEMATICS CLUB has been active for some time, and under the able direction of Miss Foote, its sponsor and adviser, since early in October, 1940. During both terms of the school year, pasteboard figures of triangles, squares, hexagons, and other geometric figures were enthusiastically made by the members. At other meetings the club figured out amusing puzzles and jokes of a mathematical type.

Several very profitable candy sales were held, and the year's program, as a whole, was extremely successful.

Mathematics Club is one of the oldest and most interesting clubs in the school, and its programs help members toward clear, unprejudiced thinking.

In these days of peril for democracy, clear thinking is one of the most necessary traits a person can have to be tolerant and level-headed. The study of mathematics has always been one which develops the brain, insures sound reasoning, and widens the viewpoint. Most great mathematicians and scientists have had clear political views, with the exception, perhaps of Pasteur, who spent twelve years of his life trying to make French beer better than German. However, he was the exception rather than the rule.

Toward the end of an open mind mathematics develops Americanism.

TITLE: The Science Club.

Object: To delve further into the background of the scientific procedure of industries of today.

Materials: The outstanding scientists of Olean High School along with their teachers and the books and magazines which give them so much information.

Procedure: Every Friday afternoon the budding young chemists of Olean High School meet in the Chemistry Laboratory. There, they perform many interesting experiments such as, for example, liquifying sulfur dioxide.

Observation: The future Einsteins of America observe each experiment with great interest, learning many new facts.

Conclusion: The Science Club gives pupils who are interested in Physics, Chemistry and Biology opportunity to go further in those fields than is possible in class. In these days of atom smashers and giant wars everything with which one comes in contact has a scientific background, if it is not scientific in itself. No one can read intelligently without knowing something about modern science. This club aids its members to become intelligent readers and thinkers in this new world in which America must take her place.

"BELIEVE—," "I think—," "I read this—," "My opinion—,"; these exclamations are heard every Monday in "We the Students", the really democratic student organization in Olean High School. Here, there is free speech at its best as each student gives his opinions and asks for the opinions of his fellow classmates; thus the American Way of Life is fully expressed and displayed.

The purpose of "We the Students" is to discuss current events, to gain knowledge, and to train educated American citizens.

This has been the first year of the organization and some of its successful events and accomplishments were: the writing and adopting of a constitution for the club; the study of party platforms and a student straw vote before the November Presidential election.

Among the outstanding social events of the group were a Hallowe'en party and a Christmas party.

A study was made of the National Defense Program and the club listened to President Roosevelt's address to the 77th United States Congress in January.

The club is financed by a regular membership dues and money was also raised by a very successful candy sale and dime dance to finance the Year Book picture.

Miss Wombough and Miss Gould are the advisers of "We the Students" and their fine help and guidance have made the club successful and popular enough so that it will probably continue as an outstanding activity.

DEMOCRACY begins at home. The members of the Know Your Own City Club believe that one must know his own city if he is to take an active part in his city affairs. Therein lies the purpose of this club—acquaint its members with the civic, industrial, cultural, religious and educational life of Olean.

To accomplish this, the club, this year, has visited Sibley Almy, Stroehmann's Bakery, Olean Glass Company, Clark Brothers, Olean Cutlery, Olean Times-Herald and many other local industries. Outstanding among the social activities of the club was a skating party held at the Old Mill Skating Rink.

This club offers a grand opportunity to the students of Olean High to gather the much needed information about the city and to see the city at work. The club can take care of any number of members, so for an interesting and educational contact, join the Know Your Own City Club.

Olean is a good place in which to live! This, the club has learned.

THIS year has been a very eventful one for the First Aid Club. The interest in the National Defense Program has created interesting activities for the members. The members believe that the best way to aid National Defense is to be prepared to offer first aid.

An interesting program was provided by Mr. Baker of the Olean Fire Department who demonstrated the use of the inhalator and showed the members how to give artificial respiration. Mr. Linderman, assistant coach of Olean High School, showed the club how to set fractures and how to use splints. Dr. Greenleaf was present at one meeting and had, with the club, an interesting discussion about burns.

Not all work and no play is the First Aid Club. They enjoy many entertaining social events. Prominent among the social activities of the club was the Christmas party. After the Easter vacation the club members enjoyed a Spring hike.

After studying different types of wounds and how to bandage them, artificial respiration, fractures and splints, and many other methods of offering first aid, the members were awarded their certificates. Six of the members received Standard Red Cross certificates and twelve members received Junior Red Cross certificates.

This club offers one of the best types of educational recreation available to students. It prepares better equipped American citizens to help the United States further the National Preparedness Program.

The Stamp Club

MAX RICHARDSON	- - - - -	President

MARIE BAKER	- - - - -	Secretary
MISS BASS	- - - - -	Adviser

THE STAMP CLUB consists of about twenty members of the student body who are interested in furthering their knowledge of stamps. All the members collect United States stamps and a few collect some foreign ones. Others have fine collections of covers.

During the past year several quizzes have been held in which questions about stamps were the subject. At other meetings members of the club traded stamps and covers.

The Stamp Club fits in very well with the idea of the American Way of Living. By exchanging stamps the members of the club are able to acquaint themselves with other countries and thus promote a democratic spirit among each other. A great deal of valuable knowledge about the history of foreign countries as well as that of the United States is gained through stamp collecting since one has to read about foreign countries in order to learn where certain stamps come from.

The Stamp Club is a very interesting club and is well worth joining. About a half hour after school each week is spent in discussion; and, under the able leadership of Miss Bass, this club has become one of the especially well-known extra-curricular activities.
