Academic Update

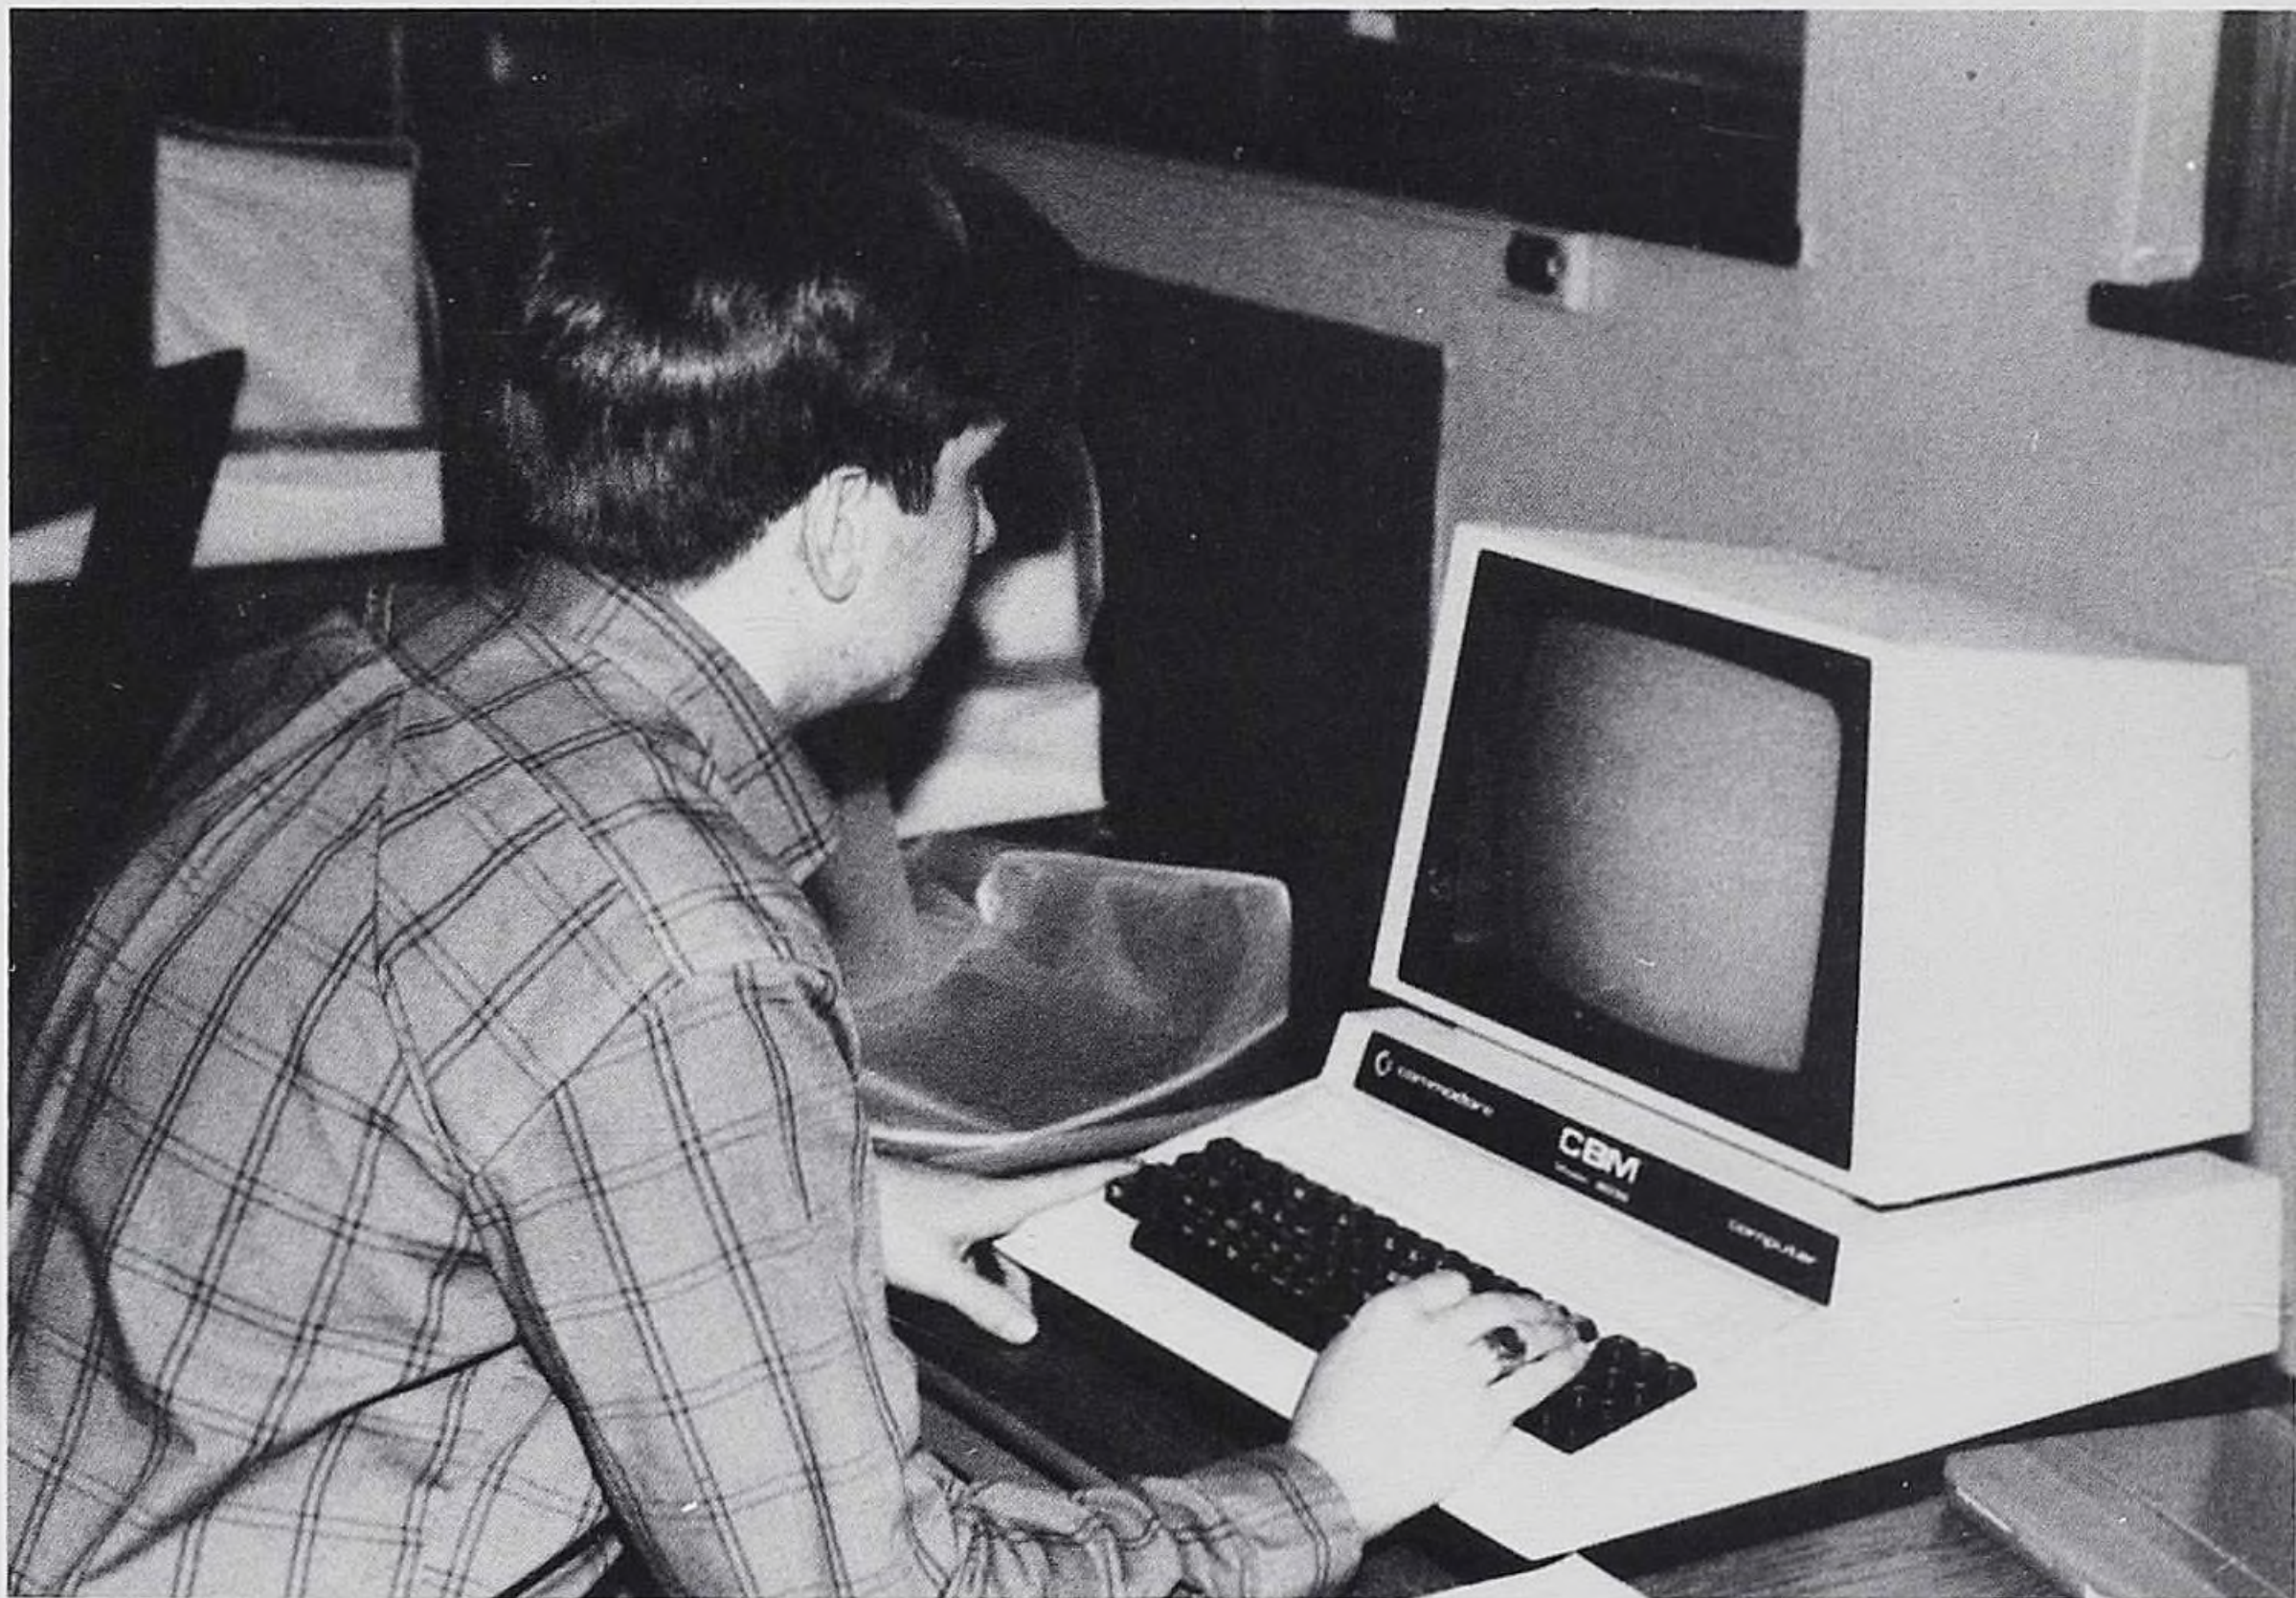

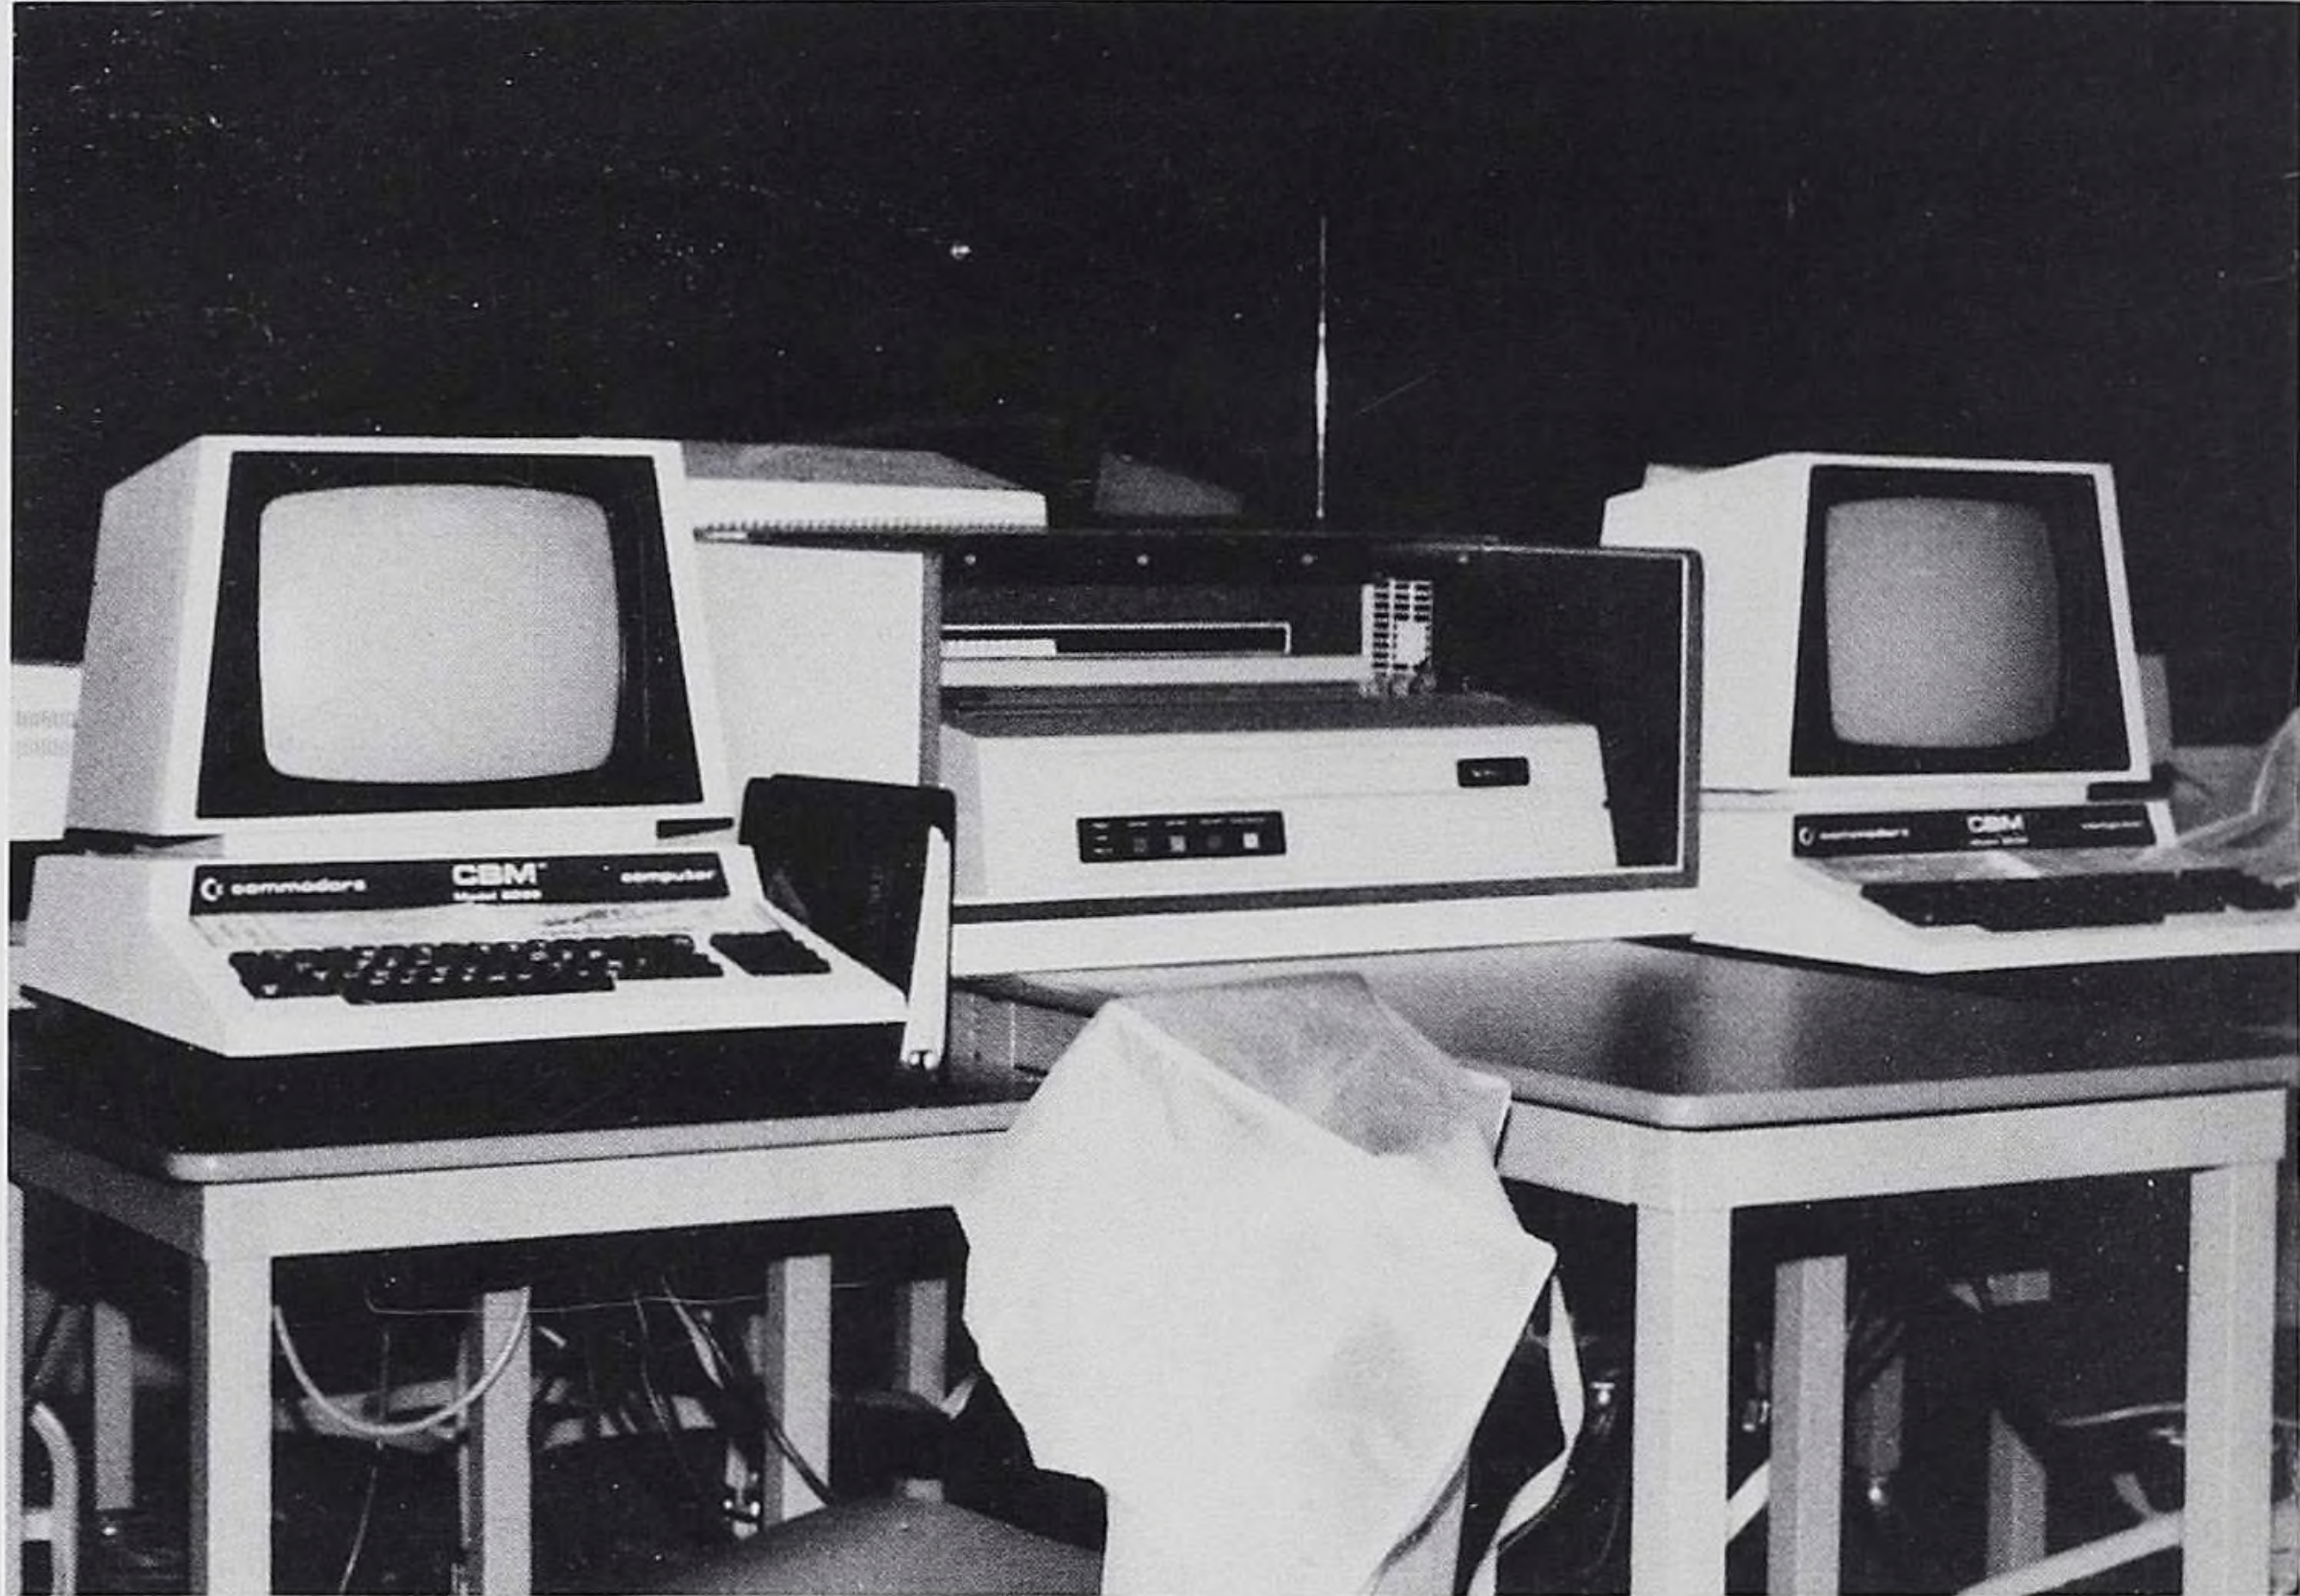

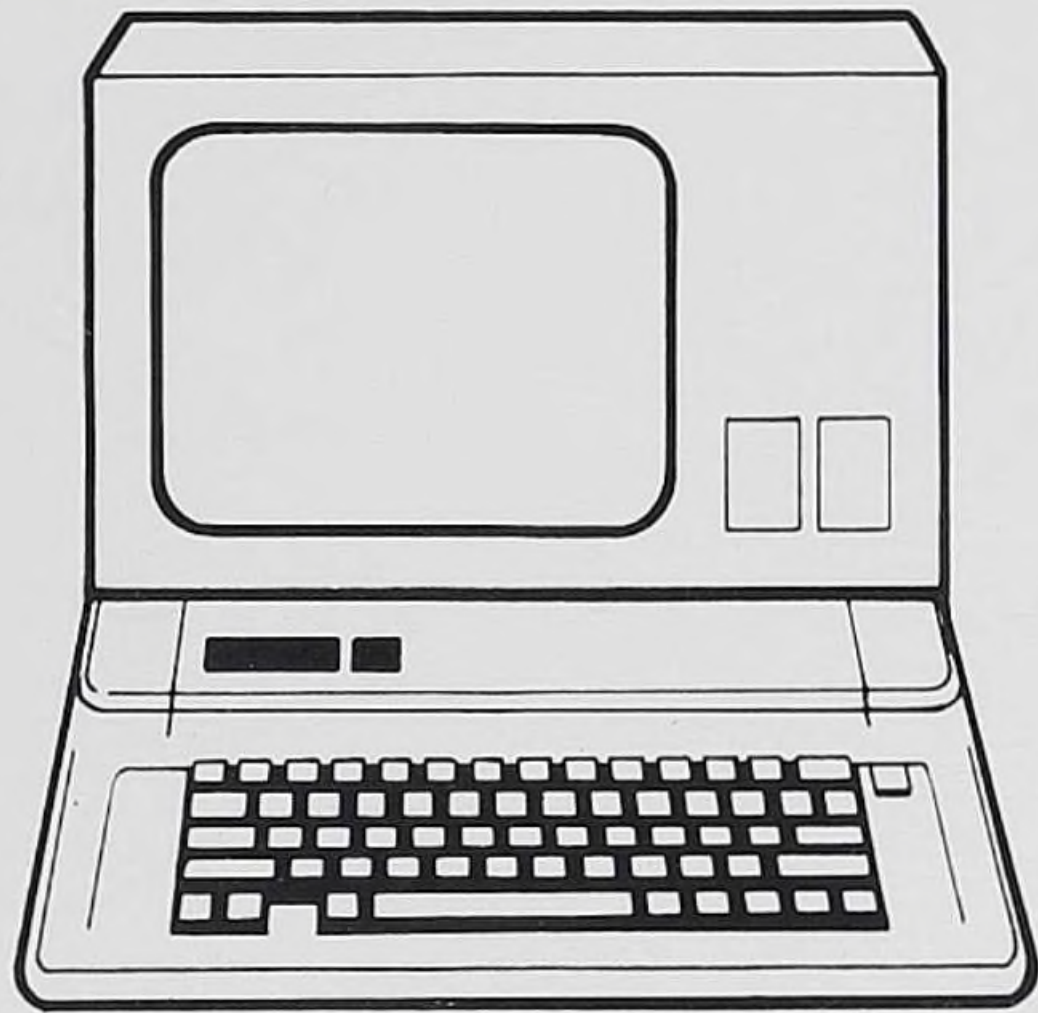

Have you noticed any changes at OHS this year? Because of the Regents Action Plan, new courses and rooms have been added. The first is the Word Processing Class.

Have you ever reached the point where you wanted to throw your typewriter out the window? Have you ever run out of typing paper because you had to keep typing the same page over and over? If so, stop by Room 311 and see what a word processor can do for you. You will never look at typing the same way again. Even if you are not the world's best typist, you can produce beautifully typewritten work if you know how to use a word processor.

An OHS Word Processing Room has been developed over the past two years to introduce students to the wonderful world of processing. In Room 311, there are 18 microcomputers which are programmed for word processing, two disk drives, and a letter-quality printer. Students can quickly learn to operate this equipment—even if they have never had any previous computer experience or have limited typing ability. Word processors make it possible for students to avoid a great deal of frustration and save time when producing work—such as reports—because with only one or two keystrokes, it is possible to revise wording in a document and correct errors.

Students receive word processing instruction in the following courses: Business Dynamics, Advanced Keyboarding, Office Practice, and Secretarial Practice. A new semester course, Word Processing, is also being offered to all students.

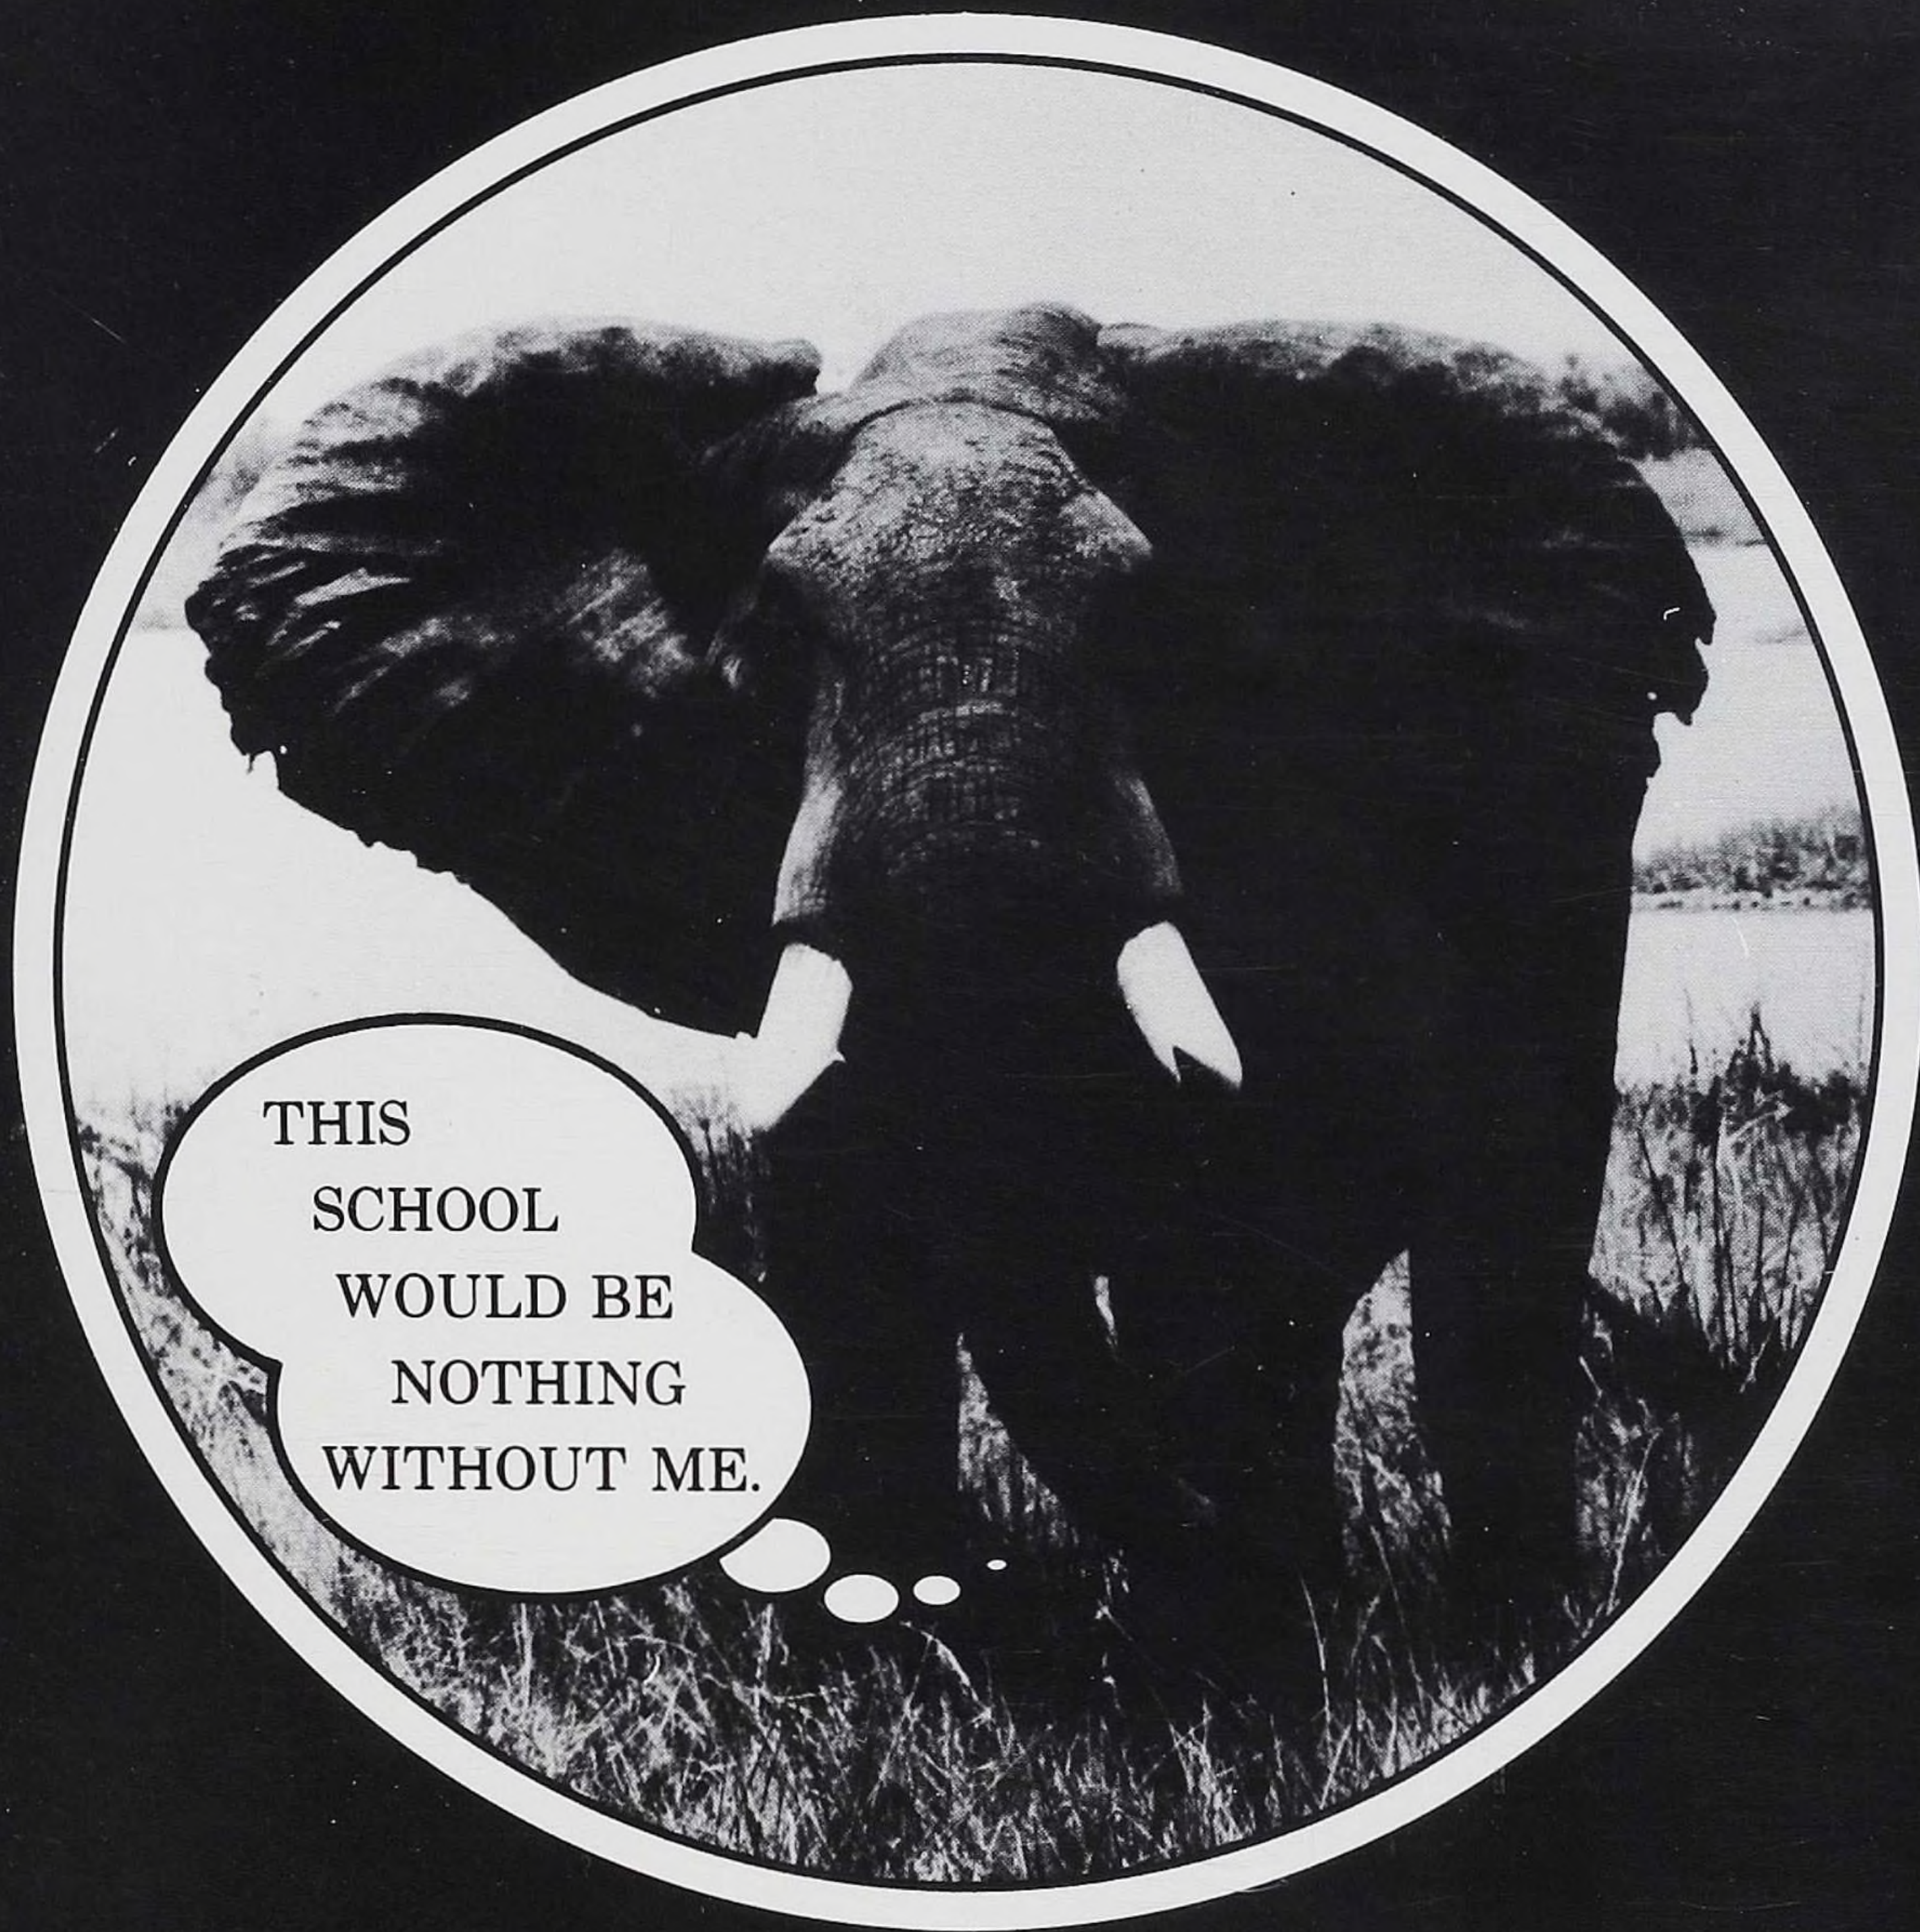

Today word processors are being used more and more in the office and in the home in place of typewriters. For on-the-job use or personal use, word processing is for you!

Do you know what the program shown above is? It is a program used to sort numbers in ascending order. This is written in BASIC, one of the many languages used in programming. OHS offers both PASCAL and BASIC. If you are interested in computers, check and see what educational background is required.

A variety of events were enjoyed by many during Homecoming Week. These events included Hawaiian Shirt Day, Battle of The Classes, Bonfire, Football Game, and the Traditional Homecoming Dance. As usual, the Homecoming Parade was successful with the students doing an excellent job on the floats. The football game was exciting with the Huskies having a win for the fans. Congratulations to this years chairman and co-chairman for making it a success.
